LEMME DOWN! LEMME DOWN!

Meowing lustily, neighborhood cat sits on crossarm of telephone pole at Madrona and Orange avenues in Larkspur, afraid to descend. Mrs. B. K. Wolfe of 157 Madrona said the cat's yowls awoke her at 5:30 a.m. She tried to rescue it but found it far beyond her reach. Then she called, in sequence, Larkspur police, Larkspur Fire Department, Marin County Humane Society—and finally, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Shortly before noon, a telephone lineman appeared, climbed the pole and rescued Kitty. "I took the cat in the house and fed it, and everything is just wonderful," reported Mrs. Wolfe. Allied Leaders Assemble For Parley In Paris

4 Heads Of State Open 'Summit' Talks Tomorrow

PARIS (UPI) — The four key Western heads of government assembled in France today to settle their own quarrels and thresh out a master plan for an approaching summit conference with the Soviet Union.

President Eisenhower landed by ship at Toulon and sped to Paris by train. (See story on page 7). British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived by air. The three will meet tomorrow with French President Charles de Gaulle.

WORDS OF PEACE

The three arrivals came with words of peace and determination and expressions of hope that the three-day conference would clear the atmosphere for coming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

France welcomed them with a guarded expression of hope that the meeting would bring about "not only better relations between our nations but a better climate of affairs in the world."

But the just-ended NATO council of ministers conference and past statements by officials of the four governments have made it clear the allies do not see eye-to-eye either on the form of their defenses or the approach to the East-West summit.

FRANCE OPPOSED

In addition, de Gaulle has caused some feeling among the other allies by refusing to permit stockpiling of atomic warheads in France and by his approach to an East-West summit.

He wants to meet Khrushchev personally first—like Macmillan and Eisenhower have—and then he wants a minute agenda prepared, touching on all the cold war problems. The United States and Britain would rather limit the conference with Khrushchev to a few broad issues such as disarmament and Germany, and make it an exploratory session.

MENDING BREAKS

The meeting this weekend will concentrate on mending breaks in the allied fences. There will have to be another meeting in the spring to work out a detailed position for the meeting with Khrushchev.

Eisenhower, in almost his first words on French soil, stressed the urgency of the Western partners being able to talk with Moscow "from a position of strength."

Crash Feared After Islander Sees Flash

Three former employees of a Sausalito flying service, headed home from Alaska for Christmas, were missing today aboard a chartered PBY amphibian plane.

Pilot of the missing craft was Philip Gray, 29, of 407 Pine street, Tamalpais Valley. Co-pilot was Carl Scott of San Francisco, and engineer, Burrass Smith, 63, of 834 Meadowsweet drive, Corte Madera. All three are former employees of Commodore Aviation at Sausalito.

With them when they left Fairbanks, Alaska, several days ago were Bob Meath, a veteran Alaska bush pilot, and an unidentified man and woman, riding as passengers, the Associated Press reported from Juneau, Alaska.

The plane vanished last night off Annette Island, 250 miles south of Juneau, in a roaring storm.

A resident of Annette Island, Ed Burns, said he heard the PBY and saw it circling, then saw a flash as if the plane had crashed on the north end of the island, United Press International reported.

The weather was so bad last night that the Coast Guard had to abandon an aerial search after an hour and 15 minutes. It was worse this morning.

HAD SURVIVAL GEAR

The plane, owned by California Aviation Engine Co. of Hayward and chartered by Stanford Research Institute, carried complete survival equipment, including rubber rafts, life preservers, extra clothing and food.

Gray, Scott and Smith flew the craft to Alaska last month to haul out electronic equipment with which Stanford Research Institute had been making a study of arctic weather. A series of tests and measurements had been completed, and the plane was en route home.

Glenn Turner of Hayward, principal owner of California Aviation Engine Co., which owned the missing plane, was reported en route by air to Alaska today.

LONG-TIME PILOT

Gray, the pilot, was a long-time pilot and instructor for Commodore Aviation. He started with the firm in 1948, reported Robert Law, former owner of Commodore. He worked as pilot-instructor until about two years ago, and since then had been associated with Law in fire-fighting flying in Northern California.

He and his family lived on Morningsun avenue, in Mill Valley until he left on his last trip to Alaska about Nov. 1. Since then, his wife, Madeline, and sons, Mark 2 years, and Scott, 2 months, had been staying with Mrs. Gray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Christ, at 407 Pine street, Tamalpais Valley. Christ is head jailer at the Marin County Jail.

ONE ENGINE OUT

At 6:15 p.m. yesterday the two-enginer PBY radioded its position and reported one engine had gone out. It was then 28 miles from Annette Island, 250 miles south of Juneau, where the Coast Guard maintains a station.

That was the last heard from the missing craft.

Two Coast Guard cutters, the Balsam and Citrus, were dispatched from Ketchikan to search the wind-whipped waters. A Coast Guard search plane was forced to turn back

Rain Predicted On Anniversary Of '55 Deluge

Four years ago today, the worst storm in 30 years buffeted and rocked Marin. Today, the Weather Man hopefully predicted that a five-day rainstorm will start tomorrow to break the long drought.

The 1955 storm poured up to 10 inches of rainfall on Marin and forced many families to flee their homes. It broke power and telephone lines, isolating Marin.

The Weather Man wouldn't predict anything like that this time—even if the rain does last five days.

Temperatures were slightly warmer in parts of the county this morning, registering 48 degrees in Bolinas, 44 in Tamalpais Valley and 42 in San Rafael. Things were still brisk in Novato with a frosty 34 degrees.

Legislature Urged To Seek Land For Park Around Gate Bridge

COMBINED AP AND UPI

SAN FRANCISCO—The California State Park Commission today urged the Legislature to ask Congress for military lands on both sides of the Golden Gate Bridge for a huge new state park.

Involved are 3,400 acres in Marin County and 517 in San Francisco. On the Marin County side, 300 acres of Ft. Baker and Ft. Cronkhite have already been declared surplus by the military.

The commission also told its staff to continue study of the park plan so that it might have some firm idea to give the Legislature in its petition to Congress.

"A great deal depends on our having a plan which would strengthen our position with the federal government when the land is formally released," said Robert Hatch, project investigator for the state Division of Beaches and Parks.

Hatch said there is possibly "no more scenic or romantic area on the West Coast."

He said the military eventually can be expected to release the land because changes in military techniques make it no longer useful to it.

Will Rogers Jr., Beverly Hills member of the commission said that if California citizens "dream along with us" on the project, there would be a good chance that the federal government would turn the land over to the state at a reasonable cost.

"I don't know of any place in this country or the world that has so much scenic grandeur right in the heart of a populated area," Rogers declared.

DeWitt Nelson, director of the department of natural resources, said "I don't think we should miss an opportunity" to persuade Congress to give the land to the state as it is declared surplus.

Marin's portion of the park would include all of the three forts, Barry, Baker and Cronk-

WHY ALL THE FUSS? THE ISSUE IS COMPLETELY CLEAR, SIMPLE

An unidentified Novato 4-year-old has reduced the city incorporation issue to an issue clear and simple enough to appeal to anyone.

"What's the button for?" a clerk asked.

"It's to vote yes for incorporation," the small-fry replied.

"What does incorporation mean?" the clerk asked, tongue in cheek.

Ike May Extend His Goodwill Travels To Include Far East

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower may extend his goodwill travels abroad to include a tour of the Far East next year, diplomatic sources said today.

Asian diplomats who have inquired at the State Department about whether such a trip is contemplated said they did not get a definite answer. But they gained the impression it was a serious possibility.

Their inquiries were prompted by unofficial reports that Eisenhower would return from his visit to Russia next June via Tokyo, Seoul, Taipei, Manila and—if time allows—several capitals in Southeast Asia, including Jakarta, Saigon and Bangkok.

The State Department told the diplomats that no plans for such a trip could be discussed until the dates of Eisenhower's key commitments early next year are settled.

But a ranking diplomat said he believed the success of the President's current 11-nation tour assured the addition of the Far East to the chief executive's travel schedule.

High administration sources said yesterday that Eisenhower has decided to go to Brazil and four or five other Latin American countries sometime next spring. April was considered a likely month for this trip provided it would not conflict with the contemplated East-West summit meeting in Geneva.

IDEAL, CITY TOLD

Terra Linda Play Area Site Eyed

A parcel of flat land of about six or eight acres next to Terra Linda High School on the Freitas ranch would be an ideal site for a community recreation center for Terra Linda valley, a planning consultant told San Rafael city officials yesterday.

Kenneth Anderson, consultant hired to develop a recreation plan for the San Rafael area, discussed this and other possibilities with members of the city council and the recreation and park commission at a luncheon. He stressed that his recommendations are only preliminary, and final decisions will be up to the city council.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

Anderson urged that an advisory council of 12 to 15 citizens be formed early next year to analyze what the city needs in the way of long-range recreation facilities.

City councilmen decided that further discussions should be held at the next council meeting, set for 8 p.m. Monday.

In the meantime, City Clerk W. L. Morgan, acting as city manager, will contact the Freitas family to get some idea on what the land would cost. Flat land in the vicinity of the high school has been sold at around $6,000 per acre.

COMMUNITY PARK

Anderson pointed out that recreation facilities must be developed on the basis that the population of Terra Linda valley will eventually reach 12,000. He said the area is deficient in major recreation areas. He recommended procuring land between Terra Linda High School and a junior high school being built by the Dixie School District. This would mean that the city recreation site would be complemented by the school playgrounds on both sides.

The planning consultant also mentioned that the hill to the west of this area would make a suitable community park, if the city sees fit to acquire it. The hill contains about 20 acres, and the land would not be so costly as flat land.

Anderson said he is proceeding on the assumption that the entire Terra Linda valley would be served by a community center if it is built. The center would have a social hall and other facilities for adult pro-

Skin Disease Quarantines Juvenile Hall

Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher said the quarantine was imposed because there are three cases of impetigo, a highly infectious although not dangerous skin disease, among the hall's 27 young inmates.

The quarantine means nobody can be admitted to the juvenile hall in Lucas Valley nor released from it. Busher said he expected to arrange for Sonoma County Juvenile Hall to handle any commitments that might be necessary during the quarantine.

Marin Unit Endorses Bay Crusade

The Marin United Fund expressed its wholehearted endorsement of the United Bay Area Crusade in a vote of confidence to the leadership of UBAC at a meeting last night at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Continued support was pledged to the Marin United Fund and the newly elected board of directors to the crusade organization which yesterday lost one of its counties with withdrawal of San Mateo County.

Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon of Kent Woodlands, Marin United Fund president, said today that Marin County realizes that it is dependent on the commuter money that is given "at work" and "we feel that our money goes across both the bridges and so we must draw it back by being part of the United Bay Area Crusade."

She said Marin raised the largest amount in its history this year. Now at $162,000, the fund is expected to reach $166,000, "and yet our share of the Bay Area Crusade is $263,219. We do receive our

Many San Rafael stores, which have been open every night this week for Christmas shopping, will also remain open until 9 p.m. tomorrow, Ken McKenzie, chairman of the merchants' committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

Poultry Sales Decline Since U.S. Warning

PETALUMA (AP)—Dealers in this self-styled "poultry capital of the United States" say sales have dropped on all kinds of eating chickens since the government warning against a caponette hormine linked to cancer.

"To the average housewife, a chicken is a chicken," said I. A. Barlas, a feed company owner "She doesn't distinguish between caponettes and other types of chickens."

Barlas estimated that the hormone, stilbestrol, was injected in about 10 to 15 per cent of local meat birds. This production comes from about 25 ranches.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced Dec. 10 that caponettes injected with the hormone—used to induce growth—were being removed from the market.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Cuba To Try Yank

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro told a nationwide television audience last night that American newsman James Buchanan would stand trial before a Cuban court.

Castro asserted that Cuban authorities have proof of the complicity of Buchanan, a correspondent for the Miami, Fla., Herald, in the case of Frank Austin Young.

Young, an American soldier of fortune, escaped from a jail in western Cuba after he was sentenced to 30 years in prison for anti-Castro activities. Buchanan interviewed him during his brief period of freedom, and the reporter was arrested a week ago, shortly after Young was recaptured in Havana.

Disaster Averted

TOKYO (AP)—A crowded passenger train crashed into a truck loaded with 5,000 sticks of dynamite today at Yokokawa City, in central Japan. Twenty Japanese passengers were injured, but the dynamite didn't explode.

Radioactive Watches

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Three wrist watches of a type thought to contain possible radioactive strontium were located yesterday in El Paso by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The watches are Rolex GMT-Master wrist watches and also bear the markings Oyster Perpetual on the face. They are manufactured by a Swiss company.

The AEC and the distributor are trying to get back all of this type watch because of the possibility that some may contain dangerous amounts of the radioactive material.

Gag Rule Attacked

DETROIT (UPI) — Federal judges here came under sharp attack today for their so-called "gag rule" that keeps certain cases from the press and public until they hit the open courtroom.

Sen. Thomas H. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, said he has ordered his staff to "look into" the new rule that cloaks some suit records in secrecy. Judges Theodore Levin, Ralph M. Freeman, Thomas P. Thornton and Clifford O'Sullivan issued the order Wednesday "in the interest of justice."

Michigan Fund Plan

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A revenue plan which would pump 87 million dollars into Michigan's debt-ridden treasury was passed last night by the state Senate and sent to the House.

Step To Sainthood

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII, in a precedent-breaking ceremony, today extolled the virtues of "simplicity and charity" of an American woman who may become the Roman Catholic Church's first U. S.-born saint.

"These are the virtues needed by the modern world, feverish with selfishness," the pope said of the founder of the U. S. Sisters of Charity, Elizabeth Ann Bayley Seton.

Three American cardinals, including two who received red hats this week, listened with the pontiff while a papal aide read a decree declaring Mother Seton "venerable"—one of the major steps in the long and painstaking church process toward sainthood.

Meat Strike Talks

CHICAGO (UPI)—The United Packinghouse Workers and Wilson and Co. meat packers met today to try to end a seven-week strike often punctuated by violence.

Mrs. Miriam Burd, 66, died Monday of infectious hepatitis, a liver inflammation. Miss Caroline Coleman, 70, died the next day of cerebral malaria.

Mrs. William Ferguson of Walnut Creek, Miss Coleman's niece, said the women apparently contracted their fatal illnesses while "traveling in areas of Ceylon where they should not have been."

Army Links Czech Envoy To Radio Station Poison Plot

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —The U.S. Army charged today that the Czechoslovak vice consul at Salzburg, Austria, provided a Communist agent with the poison found in salt shakers at the cafeteria of Radio Free Europe in Munich.

"The Army counter-intelligence investigation shows that Jaroslav Nemec, a vice consul at the Czech consulate in Salzburg, Austria, on Nov. 16 gave a Communist agent salt shakers containing atropine for placement in the RFE cafeteria in Munich," an official Army statement said.

"The agent was told that the shakers contained a "mild laxative," the Army said.

"Clinical analysis, however, proved that they contained atropine in sufficient quantity to cause serious illness, the degree of which would depend upon the age and physical condition of the individual and the amount of salt consumed."

Disclosure of the plot against the private, American-financed station, which broadcasts anti-Communist propaganda was made Wednesday by its European director, Erik Hazelhoff of Mount Kisco, N.Y.

He said he had notified U.S. and West German authorities after being tipped that the poison had been put in salt shakers at the station's cafeteria Nov. 21.

U.S. Army and West German officials at first denied they knew anything about the plot. But a spokesman later said the Army had been told about it.

'NORMAL OPERATIONS'

Today's Army statement said the plot was discovered by counter-intelligence agents during "normal security operations."

Hazelhoff said in his announcement that a "foreign Communist power" was behind the alleged poisoning but refused to identify the country. He said only that it was planned by a Communist diplomat stationed in Western Europe.

Atropine, the drug found in the salt shakers, is derived from the deadly nightshade plant. It is given in minute doses for certain forms of heart disturbances, asthma and intestinal colic. A dose of two-tenths of a gram causes death within 6 to 24 hours.

MINOR OFFICIAL

In Vienna, the Austrian protocol office said a Jaroslav Nemec is employed by the Czechoslovak consulate general at Salzburg as a minor official, without diplomatic status.

The Czechoslovak legation in Vienna termed the U.S. Army statement "gross provocation" and denied Czech officials in Austria were involved.

"Mr. Nemec is a consular officer of the Czechoslovak Consulate General at Salzburg. He is certainly not involved in the alleged poison attempt," a spokesman said.

"All we know about the case is what we read in the Austrian papers."

Pace Of School Integration Hit By Rockefeller

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says, by implication, that the Eisenhower administration could have done more to speed up desegregation of the public schools.

He expressed this belief in Texas as he neared the end of a political fact-finding tour through seven states today.

"I won't be satisfied until we achieve our goal," he said.

He defined the goal as "utilimate equality for all."

In news conferences in the South, reporters questioned Rockefeller closely about his opinions on the bitter controversy over the schools.

He said he is not satisfied with the pace of desegregation. At the same time he counselled patience and said "understanding" is needed. He said parties of interest should be brought together. "A great deal can be done by a group sitting down informally, not in the glare of public attention."

HIS LIPS SEALED

Federal Probers Link Mafia, Touhy Killing

CHICAGO (UPI)—Homicide detectives today pored over massive files of Chicago's underworld history and searched the littered basement of a home for clues to the assassins of mobster Roger Touhy.

But the investigation, one of the most intensive in a long line of gangland slaying probes, had revealed little more than that the 61-year-old prohibition beer baron could have been slain by organization mobsters or someone who held a personal grudge.

Federal investigators contended that Touhy and his bodyguard, Walter Miller, 62, were gunned down Wednesday night by the Mafia, international crime organization, to "seal their lips forever."

But the Chicago police investigation proceeded on the assumption that either hoodlums from Touhy's underworld past or gunmen of Chicago's current crime syndicate blasted the pair with shotguns.

Miller, a long-time friend of Touhy and a defense witness at his parole hearings, remained in critical condition at a hospital with shotgun pellets in his legs, buttocks and back.

Investigators' best clue so far is the finding of a basement hideout across the street from the home where Touhy had been living since his parole from prison only 23 days before he was shot.

Police believed the killers kept watch over the home of Mrs. Ethel Alesia, Touhy's sister, for perhaps 10 days, watching Touhy's comings and goings to determine when best to cut him down.

Two gunmen apparently hid out behind the hedges near the Alesia home Wednesday night, police said, and ambushed Touhy and Miller shortly after 10 p.m. as they returned from a business engagement.

The mark of the Mafia was put upon the slaying by U.S. Atty. Robert Tieken, who said "They killed him to impress other members that no matter how long it takes, they will seal your lips forever."

However, local police were more inclined to believe a long-standing grudge held by either a former member of Touhy's gang or a leftover from the hoodlums of Scarface Al Capone murdered Touhy.

Dooley Headed Back To His Jungle Hospital

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Thomas Dooley believes a chest cancer makes his chances for a long life, bleak, but he is heading back to jungle hospital work in Laos avowedly "the happiest man alive."

"I'm not worried about dying," the boyishly handsome St. Louis physician, 32, told reporters at London airport last night. "I figure what I have crammed into my life makes me really 65. I aim to die quietly in my home town."

Dr. Dooley left his Laotian work last August to go to the United States for removal of a tumor on the chest wall and a lecture tour that raised $400,000 for ailing Laotian children.

"Not long ago I was given 18 months to live," he said. "I recently underwent surgery in New York and the results showed the cancer has not spread further. That's why I am going back to the jungle."

Breeze Blows Bills

MARISSA, Ill. (AP) — When $10,000 in currency was scattered from a broken mail pouch, resident helped recover it for the Marissa Post Office.

All but $245 was found. The mail sack split when it was dropped at the depot from a passing train. The bills were carried away by a stiff breeze.

SHOULD GET FACE ZONED FOR WHISKERS

BOSTON (UPI)—It was bad enough, a young city employee said, when his superiors told him to shave off his bristly black beard or quit his job.

But when they implied he was a beatnik, it was too much, said David M. Ross, 24, a junior planner for the city planning board.

So Ross went to superior court yesterday with a petition to "enjoin and restrain" the board from firing him because he won't shave off his whiskers.

There are slightly more than 12 million Jews in the world. About 6,200,000 live in North, Central and South America; about 3,500,000 in Europe; approximately 1,900,000 in Asia; some 560,000 in Africa and about 65,000 in Australia and New Zealand.

Air Force Planes Collide; 2 Survive

NORTH BAY, Ont. (AP) — Two survivors have been picked up from the wreckage of two U.S. Air Force planes which collided over Northern Ontario. The Air Defense Command today identified the survivors as Capt. Roy N. Minor of Manchester, Tenn., and Lt. Theodore C. Adams of Greenville, S.C.

Adams co-piloted a B47 bomber which was in collision yesterday with an F102 fighter on training exercises. He was flown to the U.S. radar site at Pagwa, Ont., for medical treatment.

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —The U.S. Army charged today that the Czechoslovak vice consul at Salzburg, Austria, provided a Communist agent with the poison found in salt shakers at the cafeteria of Radio Free Europe in Munich.

"The Army counter-intelligence investigation shows that Jaroslav Nemec, a vice consul at the Czech consulate in Salzburg, Austria, on Nov. 16 gave a Communist agent salt shakers containing atropine for placement in the RFE cafeteria in Munich," an official Army statement said.

"The agent was told that the shakers contained a "mild laxative," the Army said.

"Clinical analysis, however, proved that they contained atropine in sufficient quantity to cause serious illness, the degree of which would depend upon the age and physical condition of the individual and the amount of salt consumed."

Disclosure of the plot against the private, American-financed station, which broadcasts anti-Communist propaganda was made Wednesday by its European director, Erik Hazelhoff of Mount Kisco, N.Y.

He said he had notified U.S. and West German authorities after being tipped that the poison had been put in salt shakers at the station's cafeteria Nov. 21.

U.S. Army and West German officials at first denied they knew anything about the plot. But a spokesman later said the Army had been told about it.

'NORMAL OPERATIONS'

Today's Army statement said the plot was discovered by counter-intelligence agents during "normal security operations."

Hazelhoff said in his announcement that a "foreign Communist power" was behind the alleged poisoning but refused to identify the country. He said only that it was planned by a Communist diplomat stationed in Western Europe.

Atropine, the drug found in the salt shakers, is derived from the deadly nightshade plant. It is given in minute doses for certain forms of heart disturbances, asthma and intestinal colic. A dose of two-tenths of a gram causes death within 6 to 24 hours.

MINOR OFFICIAL

In Vienna, the Austrian protocol office said a Jaroslav Nemec is employed by the Czechoslovak consulate general at Salzburg as a minor official, without diplomatic status.

The Czechoslovak legation in Vienna termed the U.S. Army statement "gross provocation" and denied Czech officials in Austria were involved.

"Mr. Nemec is a consular officer of the Czechoslovak Consulate General at Salzburg. He is certainly not involved in the alleged poison attempt," a spokesman said.

"All we know about the case is what we read in the Austrian papers."

Rains Always Come, Water Chief Assures

If users in the Marin Municipal Water District continue to tease the tap at the present rate there will be enough water for five months if there is no rain.

But, said district general manager William R. Seeger at a luncheon gathering of the Sausalito Rotary Club yesterday, "Never has Marin County been without rain at some time in a year."

"Everyone keeps asking me what I'm going to do if it doesn't rain," Seeger exclaimed. "And the answer is that it always rains sometime."

The water district's ace in the hole is the Nicasio Dam project. But Seeger explained that it has not been an easy matter to get the project off the ground. Condemnation suits and other legal matters have slowed the project.

However, Seeger said, if the expected winter rains do not come in some quantity, the district will have to impose rationing. And in that case, he believes, the district could keep the supply flowing for a year.

Water usage has gone up because of the unseasonal summer-like weather, Seeger said.

He explained how the district has managed to meets its problems through the use of dredges on lakes. Pumps on the dredges keep water flowing into outflow lines.

"As to the future," he said, "our hope is the Nicasio project. But it is being held up by legal problems. One of these was the process of condemning property and another was the relocation of the Pt. Reyes-Petaluma highway."

He said bids may be called for in February or March for construction of the dam, and that the project can be finished in one season—in time for next year's total rain runoff.

WELL, BACK TO THE SQUIRRELS

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI)—Howard Rosenbalm, 32, went squirrel hunting with a .410 gauge shotgun but set his sights on a deer which he flushed in a woods.

It was a mistake. The small gauge shotgun wounded the deer slightly and it turned on Rosenbalm, charged him, knocked him down and left him unconscious.

Hayden's Ex-Wife Asks Court To Keep Kids In L.A. Area

She asked superior court in Los Angeles yesterday for an order restraining the film actor from bringing the four youngsters to Marin County for the holidays.

Recalling her husband's flight to Tahiti with the children early this year in defiance of a court order, Mrs. Betty DeNoon Hayden said she anticipates that he plans to take them out of the Los Angeles area again.

Hayden made it known yesterday that he has leased a house in Belvedere and that he and his children will move there in January. The children are to start school Jan. 4 in the Reed Union School District.

Mrs. Hayden, whose plea is scheduled to be heard Monday, called Hayden "a fathead" and "the defiant national hero" in her affidavit. She said, "I think Hayden belongs in the 10-year-old class at juvenile hall."

Rains Always Come, Water Chief Assures

If users in the Marin Municipal Water District continue to tease the tap at the present rate there will be enough water for five months if there is no rain.

But, said district general manager William R. Seeger at a luncheon gathering of the Sausalito Rotary Club yesterday, "Never has Marin County been without rain at some time in a year."

"Everyone keeps asking me what I'm going to do if it doesn't rain," Seeger exclaimed. "And the answer is that it always rains sometime."

The water district's ace in the hole is the Nicasio Dam project. But Seeger explained that it has not been an easy matter to get the project off the ground. Condemnation suits and other legal matters have slowed the project.

However, Seeger said, if the expected winter rains do not come in some quantity, the district will have to impose rationing. And in that case, he believes, the district could keep the supply flowing for a year.

Water usage has gone up because of the unseasonal summer-like weather, Seeger said.

He explained how the district has managed to meets its problems through the use of dredges on lakes. Pumps on the dredges keep water flowing into outflow lines.

"As to the future," he said, "our hope is the Nicasio project. But it is being held up by legal problems. One of these was the process of condemning property and another was the relocation of the Pt. Reyes-Petaluma highway."

He said bids may be called for in February or March for construction of the dam, and that the project can be finished in one season—in time for next year's total rain runoff.

WELL, BACK TO THE SQUIRRELS

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI)— Howard Rosenbalm, 32, went squirrel hunting with a .410 gauge shotgun but set his sights on a deer which he flushed in a woods.

It was a mistake. The small gauge shotgun wounded the deer slightly and it turned on Rosenbalm, charged him, knocked him down and left him unconscious.

Hayden's Ex-Wife Asks Court To Keep Kids In L.A. Area

She asked superior court in Los Angeles yesterday for an order restraining the film actor from bringing the four youngsters to Marin County for the holidays.

Recalling her husband's flight to Tahiti with the children early this year in defiance of a court order, Mrs. Betty DeNoon Hayden said she anticipates that he plans to take them out of the Los Angeles area again.

Hayden made it known yesterday that he has leased a house in Belvedere and that he and his children will move there in January. The children are to start school Jan. 4 in the Reed Union School District.

Mrs. Hayden, whose plea is scheduled to be heard Monday, called Hayden "a fathead" and "the defiant national hero" in her affidavit. She said, "I think Hayden belongs in the 10-year-old class at juvenile hall."

Demos Will Meet In Capital To Plan Conclave

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee will meet here Jan. 22 to discuss 1960 national convention and campaign plans.

While the meeting's agenda has yet to be decided, several state leaders have indicated they will fight National Chairman Paul M. Butler's proposal to penalize states behind in their campaign donations.

Some committeemen also have spoken up in favor of the Butler proposal which would assign convention seats and hotel rooms on the basis of state records of financial support of the national committee in the 39 months up to April 1, 1960.

Silhouetted against the flames, San Rafael firemen battle a brush fire at the old Freitas ranch in Terra Linda. 3rd Withdrawal Cuts Novato Council Field To Two Dozen

The list of candidates for Novato city council dropped to an even two dozen today.

Latest to withdraw from the race was Robert N. Kuehnl, language teacher at Redwood High School, who lives at 406 Ridge road.

Kuehnl is the third to withdraw since the Nov. 19 filing date. The others were H. Randall Bechtel and Richard M. Marinovitch.

"I am pulling out of the race so I can better support the campaign of Robert Mautner," Kuehnl told the Independent-Journal. Candidate Mautner is also a Redwood High language teacher.

Meanwhile, the remaining candidates and a scant half-dozen non-candidates, gathered last night at the Olive school for the third in a series of weekly candidates' nights. They heard Harvey Vicchio, Clayton Payne, Allan Marks, William Loewen and Charles Johnson state their views on Jan. 12 election issues.

Vicchio, a telphone engineer and member of the North Marin Sanitary District board, insisted that one of the first duties of the new council will be to make Novato attractive to "desirable industry."

Proposing a citizens' committee which would work with the chamber of commerce and the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, and which would be responsible to the city council, Vicchio said the committee's job would be one of "fact-finding and public relations."

"We must offer incentives to desirable industry to come into Novato in order to broaden our tax base and to provide employment," he said.

Payne, an insurance adjuster, said he is against a city manager "at this time," but could foresee the need for one in the future. He outlined what he considered the best "official family" for the new city until it is financially on its feet.

He listed as necessary at once a city clerk, a full-time engineer who would also serve as building inspector, a part-time treasurer and a "first-rate" police chief.

Payne also proposed, as a money-saving move, that the new city ask Hamilton Air Force Base for police help through the use of Air Force police from the base. He also suggested a "citizens' patrol" to assist in night protection of the city.

Marks, a chemical engineer, while coming out for incorporation, opposed a swimming pool suggested by the Novato Rotary Club for either the Novato High School property or the property of Oscar and Mildred Houge on Simmons lane.

Neither site, Marks said, would be adequate for the pool, although he added that he was definitely in favor of a Novato municipal pool on an adequate site.

Marks also opposed the dirt-fill freeway proposed by the state and suggested laying the freeway at ground level with additional overpasses and underpasses.

Another suggestion by the chemical engineer was agricultural zoning for the new city to preserve usefulness of present farming areas.

Loewen, a Novato restaurant owner, urged incorporation and at the same time praised the job that has been done by the North Marin representative on the board of supervisors and county planning commission.

"But to get the most out of our tax dollar," Loewen said, "we must control our own governing and planning.

"We will have taxes whether we incorporate or not . . . I pay as much if not more taxes than any of you and I feel it is a privilege to pay them."

Johnson, owner of the Redwood Funeral Chapel, said he would do everything possible to prevent the proposed freeway from remaining on its present course through the center of town.

"I am frank to admit that I haven't yet decided where it should go," Johnson said, "but by election time I will have worked out very definite ideas on the matter."

He cited the recent withdrawal of Novato from the Marin General Hospital District and the fact that Novato will have its own hospital during 1960 as an example of what can be accomplished by a community working for its own destiny.

Next Tuesday night the candidates will be briefed on city government by Arthur H. Brandow, Corte Madera town manager at Novato High School.

Bolinas Harbor Report Presented By Engineer

Another report on the engineering study for a possible harbor development at Bolinas was presented last night at a meeting of the Bolinas Harbor District Board of Directors by the San Francisco engineering firm of John A. Blume and Associates.

A company representative presented to an audience of approximately 50 persons an aerial study of the area, a chematic master plan of the proposed inner harbor and a representation of electrically-made soundings of the channel bottom.

oBard president Gene McDaniel said it has always been the desire of the district, since its inception in 1956, to minimize the built-up portion of the harbor, but still have a development that pays for itself and leaves the harbor as close to its natural state as possible.

The company representative said the plan is flexible, and made up so that the district can use it in arguments for further funds for development.

A survey by the Army Corps of Engineers has shown that the channel can not be dredged and used effectively without jetties. The district is now on the federal list for receiving assistance at some future date.

McDaniel said an economic survey still must be made before all the district's surveys can be turned over to the Rivers and Harbors Congress, a lobbying group, in Washington. Presentation will be made by it to congressional members. Copies will be set to California senators and Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera, said McDaniel. Another copy will be sent to the California Division of Small Craft Harbors.

It is hoped, McDaniel said, that the district will realize federal monies under the governmental program for helping refuge harbors.

96 Complete 2-Week Test In Shelter

PLEASANTON (AP) — You could live in "reasonable comfort" in an underground shelter for at least two weeks, a civil defense experiment here has demonstrated.

The experiment ended yesterday when 96 bearded men emerged from such a shelter after two weeks. They could have remained another two weeks in the steel quonset hut 20 feet below the surface if more water and food had been stocked.

It was a test of survival from nuclear fallout. It also tested the steel and concrete shelter, its ventilating and air-filtering system, its advertised capacity of housing 100 persons and its built-in electrical and sanitation systems.

Peter Harrison of Newport, R. I., was America's first professional architect. Among the buildings he designed in the mid-18th century were Redwood Library in Newport and King's Chapel in Boston.

Supervisor Assures Novato Of Services Until July 1

Marin County will definitely continue its services to Novato unitl July 1, 1960, if the city incorporates Jan. 12, Supervisor William Gnoss told a gathering of Novato city council candidates last night.

A contract, however, will be drawn up between the city and county, Gnoss said, as protection against any possible taxpayers suit which might be filed in the future.

The decision to draw up the contract came as the result of an opinion by County Counsel Leland H. Jordan on Tuesday that there is some question as to the validity of the state code that the services be furnished without charge.

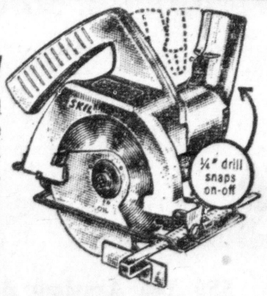

The contract would apply to street mainenance, planning and miscellaneous services.

Gnoss also told the candidates that the county is "putting all it can" into Novato at present in the way of road repair and cleanup "so that when you become a city you will start out in good shape."

Ike In France For Allies' Parley

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower and his secretary of state, Christian A. Herter, conferred on world problems today aboard a train moving through the French countryside.

The President and his foreign policy adviser were closeted in the President's car as the train sped him from Toulon to Paris, where he will attend a meeting of the Western summit.

As the train swept past vineyards and rich fields few people even realized that President Eisenhower was aboard. French security precautions barred people from stations along the route and the split-second timetable was kept secret. A few who had waited for a glimpse of the President waved at the train as it sped past small towns.

An echoing 21-gun salute greeted the U. S. heavy cruiser Des Moines as she brought the President into Toulon harbor, and French sailors snapped to attention as the President stepped down the gangway to French soil.

Brightly decked small boats criss-crossed the Mediterranean harbor and the sailors of the French fleet lined the rails of their warships to render honors to the President.

A bright sun glistened off the spic and span vessels and a few fluffy clouds floated lazily overhead. A brisk wind whipped the ships' pennants. The temperature was about 55 degrees.

French Minister of State Louis Jacquinot welcomed the President to France on behalf of President Charles de Gaulle.

"France first came to our aid in 1777," Eisenhower said in reply. "The underlying affection and respect of the two nations each for the other has never stopped."

"I am once again privileged to visit the lovely country of France and privileged to meet so many of her citizens," Eisenhower continued.

With Jacquinot, the President entered an open car. Officers' shining sabers flashed in salute as the President drove out of the historic naval base.

Other leaders of the North Atlantic alliance awaiting Eisenhower in Paris looked to him to do something about de Gaulle's newly reaffirmed stand against putting French military forces under control of the NATO command. But there was considerable doubt in Paris that even the U. S. president's much vaunted powers of persuasion would make much headway with the strong-willed Frenchman.

Western Allies Start Ball Rolling On Integrated Air Warning System

PARIS (AP)—The Western Allies have authorized first steps toward an integrated system to warn of an air attack on Western Europe, but have left for Presidents Eisenhower and Charles de Gaulle the major question of whether NATO could order French planes into action against the attack.

This is the chief result of the annual policy review by foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 15 members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The three-day meeting ended here yesterday with France agreeing to a formula for establishing the warning system but still refusing to put any of its air force under NATO's unified military command.

The United States wants forces of all NATO nations unified under the alliance's central command to defend Western Europe. In the face of de Gaulle's opposition, the Americans urged that at least an integrated air defense be started. But the French would not even agree to that.

Instead, the ministers left it up to Eisenhower—as well as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer—to see if they could make some headway with the stubborn French president during the Western summit conference this weekend.

It seemed unlikely, however, that any immediate solution would be forthcoming.

About 37 per cent of the total U. S. labor force is engaged in farming-connected business, but only 12 per cent strictly in farming.

Broadcasters' Code Given U.S. Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers today authorized the broadcasting industry to adopt codes to correct abuses and improve programs without fear of violating the anti-trust laws.

Rogers assured broadcasters that they can establish "voluntary codes of good practices . . . within the framework of the anti-trust laws which will play an important role in the improvement of radio and television programming . . ."

The attorney general expressed his views in a letter to Chairman John C. Doerfer of the Federal Communications Commission. Doerfer made public the letter, dated Dec. 16, at the commission's hearing on broadcast industry practices.

Doerfer told United Press International he felt Rogers' letter had given "very substantial reassurances to the industry" that it can take bolder steps in formulating policies.

Doerfer said the letter answer the commission's request for clarification of legal rules which might apply to the government's widening probe of broadcasting practices.

Spokesmen for the National Assn. of Broadcasters have repeatedly expressed the view that punitive action against members failing to live up to its code of ethics would be in violation of the anti-trust laws.

Donald H. McGannon, chairman of the broadcasters' television code review board, urged the FCC today to avoid any "impulsive act." He told the commission the industry is best equipped to regulate itself.

Steel Union Pressing For Individual Talks

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United Steelworkers today served new demands on the steel industry "slightly higher" than the Kaiser steel formula.

The union warned the companies if they refuse to resume negotiations on a company-by-company basis, it would seek contempt of court citations for refusal to bargain.

David J. McDonald, union president, told a news conference "a revised proposal for settlement of our dispute" has been communicated to U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Jones and Laughlin, and other employers of an estimated 500,000 steelworkers.

McDonald refused to put a definite cost estimate on the proposal's economic package, but said it was "slightly higher" than that in the agreement reached several weeks ago with the Kaiser Steel Corp.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

The bottle was numbered 6975 and I had the good fortune to sample the contents last Monday night at Fleur d'Lys when Robert Charles was "knighted" into the aforementioned confrerie. I was outclassed and outranked on every side by royalty but even if Fred Cherry of the North Bay Wine and Food Society hadn't been there to tell me the Chambertin was really a great wine I'm sure I'd have known it at the first sip.

This was a buffet bourguignon and I was kept happy in the food line, thanks to ministrations of Jack de la Rousilles who's convinced I'm wasting away to a shadow at one ounce under 180. All I know at this point is that the assortment was a beautiful symphony by chef Philibert Pretet. My homework in French is laid out for the next two weeks deciphering the details.

It was a great party attended by 200 enthusiasts and Lucius Beebe's St. Bernard dog "T-Bone Towser," who didn't seem enthusiastic at all, but he took up almost as much space.

Vive le confrerie—vive la Fleur d'Lys—vive le Chambertin 1949 and vive Stephan Stuart who imported it!

OWING TO RATHER limited dining room space the Ranch Wagon suggests reservations well in advance for New Year's Eve dinner. Tables available from 9 p.m. are your until the party's over at 1:30. Price of dinner includes favors and dancing to Gene Byrnes combo trio. Menu calls for boneless squab stuffed with wild rice or choice prime rib along with soup, seafood salad and dessert—table service—all prepared by chef Howard Tanann. Regular chuck wagon service prevails until 9 p.m.

No need to reserva space in the cocktail lounge or on the dance floor if you're just making the rounds—you take your chances.

The Ranch Wagon is open Christmas Eve, closed Christmas Day, open New Year's Day.

FIRST WORD FROM Rickey's Rancho Rafael indicates it will be booming with a name band on New Year's, and if you want to stay off the highways afterward you can make an attractive package arrangement for dinner, the festivities, an all-night stay in one of the cabins, and breakfast when you wake up.

Early reservations are suggested for this combination.

ABOUT AS CLEAN and tidy as any place as you can ask for in the smaller restaurants is the Manana in San Rafael. Only spots on linen and walls are the decorations.

Regarding the menu — Vi Looby says, "It doesn't pay us to make too many changes, but we serve the run of enchiladas, tamales, chile, tacos, frijoles and the like. I've put out a few new recipes but most people are reluctant to try something different from the old standbys in Mexican food."

Be that as it may, it's all prepared fresh daily and not stored ahead in the refrigerator. This is one reason why in ordering food to go out—in large quantities, that is—give plenty of notice. Small orders are easily handled on short notice and make up a large part of Vi's business.

Open for dinners only, from 4 p.m. seven days a week.

THE WYE CLUB, already zooming in popularity since recently opened by Paul Di Pietro, is now serving lunch and dinner. Not a wide selection yet—mostly hot plates and open sandwiches, but they're nicely cooked by Tex Trent who was trained in the Hilton Hotels service.

I ate lunch there a week ago and was pleased. The Wye Club will arrange special banquets to order. Banquet space is sizeable—room for lots of people.

Nightly, Sundays through Thursdays, I see that my old friend Nino Delgado is at the piano bar. He was formerly at the Music Box and more recently in the Oak Room at Greenbrae Lanes. Frank Haggerty's Trio continues to play Friday and Saturday nights for dancing.

Where is it? Right where Hamie's and Trade Horn used to be, on Francisco boulevard in San Rafael.

SPECIAL PARKING FACILITIES there now are in the rear of Eugene's Restaurant on Lincoln avenue—room, I believe, for 67 cars.

Some revamping, redecorating in store for this spot in the future, including an outdoor pancake garden. Spring, probably.

"YOU'RE THREE DAYS early," Sabella's restaurant pointed out to Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Silva last Tuesday when they broke a Friday night routine of long standing.

"Sorry," was the apologetic reply. "We couldn't help it—our wedding anniversary."

Sabella's, like several other spots will be open Christmas Eve, closed Christmas Day, open New Year's Day.

Open New Year's Eve, of course. Likely to be crowded, so make a date in advance—particularly for parties.

Perfect Test Score

Patsy Lea Robertson, a senior at Tomales High School, has received a perfect score on a nationwide bookkeeping and accounting test. National average for those taking the test is 77. Miss Robertson received 92, the highest possible score.

CHRISTMAS FEATURE—James Mason, Pat Boone and Diane Baker are all featured in the new science-fiction picture, "Journey to the Center of the Earth," based on Jules Verne's book. It opens at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo Christmas Eve. Sharing honors on the holiday twinbill will be Henry Fonda and Leslie Caron in "The Man Who Understood Women." Both pictures are in color.

Tam High Pupils Take Science Test

Six of Tamalpais High School's outstanding science students took preliminary examinations for the Westinghouse science scholarships and awards Wednesday.

Purpose of this annual science talent search is to discover and foster the education of boys and girls with skill, talent and creative originality in science.

Tam's students who hope to qualify for $7,500 in scholarships are David Cavagnaro, Diane De Smet, Claude Beagarie, Robert Little and Ross Parlette of Mill Valley, and Richard De Lew of Corte Madera.

Juniors taking the test on an experimental basis were David German, Dennis Crain and Anita Friedman of Mill Valley.

Decline In Marriages

NEW YORK (UPI)—The number of marriages in the United States last year declined by about 4 per cent to 1,456,000, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. This represented a rate of 8.4 per 1,000 population, the lowest since 1932. The biggest statewide drop, 45 per cent, was recorded in Indiana.

MARIN FILM FARE

Two Horror Movies To Show At Rafael

By LESLIE DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

The current craving for horror films is being met by two new shockers, "The Mummy" and "Curse of the Undead," which open Sunday at the San Rafael theater.

The first-named seems to have been inspired by the curse which is believed to have brought death and disaster to those who opened the tomb of Tutankhamen in Egypt.

It's in color.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Paramount reportedly made a mint out of "Samson and Delilah," one of Cecil B. Mille's overpowering Biblical spectaculars. Now, by way of previewing the spectaculars for 1960, it is re-releasing this classic, which has been held over a second week at the Hub City movie house.

(You can brace yourself for something like 25 spectacles from European and U. S. studios in the next 12 months).

The principals in this Technicolor entertainment are Victor Mature as the long-haired victim of Hedy Lamarr. Assisting them are the likes of George Sanders, Angela Lansbury, Henry Wilcoxon, Fay Holden, Russ Tamblyn and many, many more.

Oh yes, Samson and Delilah first was released in 1949.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

MARIN THEATER

Its stars are: Rock Hudson and Doris Day.

NOVATO THEATER

Explorer Scouts Named To Posts

Kenneth Goldstone, a member of Explorer Scout Post 28 of Mill Valley, has been elected chairman of the Marin Council Explorer Cabinet for the term ending next August.

Other Scouts recently elected to the cabinet's offices are Brad Kard of San Rafael Post 30, vice chairman, and Dennis Henderson, Mill Valley Post 28, secretary.

The cabinet, which meets quarterly, has already planned several events for 1960, including a bowling tournament in January, an Explorer Ball in February, a water skiing day in July and an expedition to a New Mexico ranch in August.

U.C. Commends San Rafael High

San Rafael High School has received its second successive "award of merit" from the University of California, based on the collective scholarship record made by the school's 1958 graduates during the first semester of their freshman year at the university.

The awards are authorized annually to those schools whose graduates make distinguished records. San Rafael was awarded a certificate in the division of schools with 10 to 19 graduates at the university.

Announcement of the award was made in a letter of congratulation to Supt. of Schools Frank L. Lucas from Dr. Herman Spindt, director of admissions at the university.

The bottle was numbered 6975 and I had the good fortune to sample the contents last Monday night at Fleur d'Lys when Robert Charles was "knighted" into the aforementioned confrerie. I was outclassed and outranked on every side by royalty but even if Fred Cherry of the North Bay Wine and Food Society hadn't been there to tell me the Chambertin was really a great wine I'm sure I'd have known it at the first sip.

This was a buffet bourguignon and I was kept happy in the food line, thanks to ministrations of Jack de la Roussilles who's convinced I'm wasting away to a shadow at one ounce under 180. All I know at this point is that the assortment was a beautiful symphony by chef Philibert Pretet. My homework in French is laid out for the next two weeks deciphering the details.

It was a great party attended by 200 enthusiasts and Lucius Beebe's St. Bernard dog "T-Bone Towser," who didn't seem enthusiastic at all, but he took up almost as much space.

Vive le confrerie—vive la Fleur d'Lys—vive le Chambertin 1949 and vive Stephan Stuart who imported it!

OWING TO RATHER limited dining room space the Ranch Wagon suggests reservations well in advance for New Year's Eve dinner. Tables available from 9 p.m. are your until the party's over at 1:30. Price of dinner includes favors and dancing to Gene Byrnes combo trio. Menu calls for boneless squab stuffed with wild rice or choice prime rib along with soup, seafood salad and dessert—table service—all prepared by chef Howard Tanann. Regular chuck wagon service prevails until 9 p.m.

No need to reserve space in the cocktail lounge or on the dance floor if you're just making the rounds—you take your chances.

FIRST WORD FROM Rickey's Rancho Rafael indicates it will be booming with a name band on New Year's, and if you want to stay off the highways afterward you can make an attractive package arrangement for dinner, the festivities, an all-night stay in one of the cabins, and breakfast when you wake up.

Early reservations are suggested for this combination.

ABOUT AS CLEAN and tidy as any place as you can ask for in the smaller restaurants is the Manana in San Rafael. Only spots on linen and walls are the decorations.

Regarding the menu — Vi Looby says, "It doesn't pay us to make too many changes, but we serve the run of enchiladas, tamales, chile, tacos, frijoles and the like. I've put out a few new recipes but most people are reluctant to try something different from the old standbys in Mexican food."

Be that as it may, it's all prepared fresh daily and not stored ahead in the refrigerator. This is one reason why in ordering food to go out—in large quantities, that is—give plenty of notice. Small orders are easily handled on short notice and make up a large part of Vi's business.

Open for dinners only, from 4 p.m. seven days a week.

THE WYE CLUB, already zooming in popularity since recently opened by Paul Di Pietro, is now serving lunch and dinner. Not a wide selection yet—mostly hot plates and open sandwiches, but they're nicely cooked by Tex Trent who was trained in the Hilton Hotels service.

I ate lunch there a week ago and was pleased. The Wye Club will arrange special banquets to order. Banquet space is sizeable—room for lots of people.

Nightly, Sundays through Thursdays, I see that my old friend Nino Delgado is at the piano bar. He was formerly at the Music Box and more recently in the Oak Room at Greenbrae Lanes. Frank Haggerty's Trio continues to play Friday and Saturday nights for dancing.

Where is it? Right where Hamie's and Trade Horn used to be, on Francisco boulevard in San Rafael.

SPECIAL PARKING FACILITIES there now are in the rear of Eugene's Restaurant on Lincoln avenue—room, I believe, for 67 cars.

Some revamping, redecorating in store for this spot in the future, including an outdoor pancake garden. Spring, probably.

"YOU'RE THREE DAYS early," Sabella's restaurant pointed out to Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Silva last Tuesday when they broke a Friday night routine of long standing.

"Sorry," was the apologetic reply. "We couldn't help it—our wedding anniversary."

Sabella's, like several other spots will be open Christmas Eve, closed Christmas Day, open New Year's Day.

Open New Year's Eve, of course. Likely to be crowded, so make a date in advance—particularly for parties.

Perfect Test Score

Patsy Lea Robertson, a senior at Tomales High School, has received a perfect score on a nationwide bookkeeping and accounting test. National average for those taking the test is 77. Miss Robertson received 92, the highest possible score.

CHRISTMAS FEATURE—James Mason, Pat Boone and Diane Baker are all featured in the new science-fiction picture, "Journey to the Center of the Earth," based on Jules Verne's book. It opens at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo Christmas Eve. Sharing honors on the holiday twinbill will be Henry Fonda and Leslie Caron in "The Man Who Understood Women." Both pictures are in color.

Tam High Pupils Take Science Test

Six of Tamalpais High School's outstanding science students took preliminary examinations for the Westinghouse science scholarships and awards Wednesday.

Purpose of this annual science talent search is to discover and foster the education of boys and girls with skill, talent and creative originality in science.

Tam's students who hope to qualify for $7,500 in scholarships are David Cavagnaro, Diane De Smet, Claude Beagarie, Robert Little and Ross Parlette of Mill Valley, and Richard De Lew of Corte Madera.

Juniors taking the test on an experimental basis were David German, Dennis Crain and Anita Friedman of Mill Valley.

Decline In Marriages

NEW YORK (UPI)—The number of marriages in the United States last year declined by about 4 per cent to 1,456,000, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. This represented a rate of 8.4 per 1,000 population, the lowest since 1932. The biggest statewide drop, 45 per cent, was recorded in Indiana.

MARIN FILM FARE

Two Horror Movies To Show At Rafael

By LESLIE DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

The current craving for horror films is being met by two new shockers, "The Mummy" and "Curse of the Undead," which open Sunday at the San Rafael theater.

The first-named seems to have been inspired by the curse which is believed to have brought death and disaster to those who opened the tomb of Tutankhamen in Egypt.

It's in color.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Paramount reportedly made a mint out of "Samson and Delilah," one of Cecil B. Mille's overpowering Biblical spectaculars. Now, by way of previewing the spectaculars for 1960, it is re-releasing this classic, which has been held over a second week at the Hub City movie house.

(You can brace yourself for something like 25 spectacles from European and U. S. studios in the next 12 months).

The principals in this Technicolor entertainment are Victor Mature as the long-haired victim of Hedy Lamarr. Assisting them are the likes of George Sanders, Angela Lansbury, Henry Wilcoxon, Fay Holden, Russ Tamblyn and many, many more.

Oh yes, Samson and Delilah first was released in 1949.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

MARIN THEATER

Its stars are: Rock Hudson and Doris Day.

NOVATO THEATER

Explorer Scouts Named To Posts

Kenneth Goldstone, a member of Explorer Scout Post 28 of Mill Valley, has been elected chairman of the Marin Council Explorer Cabinet for the term ending next August.

Other Scouts recently elected to the cabinet's offices are Brad Kard of San Rafael Post 30, vice chairman, and Dennis Henderson, Mill Valley Post 28, secretary.

The cabinet, which meets quarterly, has already planned several events for 1960, including a bowling tournament in January, an Explorer Ball in February, a water skiing day in July and an expedition to a New Mexico ranch in August.

U.C. Commends San Rafael High

San Rafael High School has received its second successive "award of merit" from the University of California, based on the collective scholarship record made by the school's 1958 graduates during the first semester of their freshman year at the university.

The awards are authorized annually to those schools whose graduates make distinguished records. San Rafael was awarded a certificate in the division of schools with 10 to 19 graduates at the university.

Announcement of the award was made in a letter of congratulation to Supt. of Schools Frank L. Lucas from Dr. Herman Spindt, director of admissions at the university.

Building Permit Total

Thirty permits for construction valued at $221,840 were issued by the Marin County Building Inspection Department for the week ending Dec. 11.

Yachtsmen Shaken By S.F. Rate Hike

Marin County yachting circles learned with consternation today of higher rates to prevail for new berths at San Francisco's Marina Yacht Harbor.

Mooring rates have been rising north of the Golden Gate, too, but not to the levels for Marina new space. Although old berths at the Marina are still priced low, a boost is forecast for next year.

Current Marina rates for old 40-foot berths are only $11.20 a month, but the new ones are to be $38.40 a month, the San Francisco Recreation and Parks Commission anounced. A quick survey of Marin County rates showed quite a lot of space priced — but not necessarily available — around $25.

Waiting lists have been the rule at Marin harbors, but there has been recent new construction, and also recent new rates. A good many San Francisco people are already berthing off Marin and now more are expected, causing some apprehension on the part of both harbor owners and present customers.

SOME INCREASES

After no increase in 10 years, the Clipper Yacht Harbor in Sausalito put in some boosts last Sept. 1, with 40-foot berths for "singles" in the new harbor quoted at $24 a month, and 30-foot at $18.

Older berths may be had in two-boat quarters for $15 to $18 per boat, a spokesman said, with some of the smaller berths as low as $12.

Basis for the new berths is 40 cents a foot, which compares with a former Marina Yacht Harbor monthly rate of 35 cents and a new rate of $1.05.

No increases have been made so far at the Lowrie Yacht Harbor in San Rafael, but raises may be considered, it was said. Here is the approximate card for Lowrie: 20-foot berth, $15, 30-feet. $20; 40 feet, $25; 42 feet, $30; 50 feet, $35; 60 feet, $40.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES

A Lowrie spokesman volunteered that for comparative figures a card just received from Pacific Marina in Alameda, just building, is of interest. With a reduction for six months payment in advance, the card rate stands at $15 for the 20-foot berths, $21 for 28 feet, $26.25 for 35 feet and $31.50 for 42 feet.

Nunes Brothers in Sausalito rent a berth 30 feet long, with water and electricity included, at $20 a month. There is is $25 for 40 feet.

Costs of new berth construction lately have been "astonishing", it was said.

Tree Vandal On Loose In Novato Area

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine reported that at least three outdoor trees were stripped of lights between 8 and 10 o'clock last night.

Elmer Nels Fredrickson of 1868 Virginia avenue said that while he was reading in his home between 8 and 8:45 p.m., someone stole two sets of lights containing about 25 bulbs from his outdoor tree.

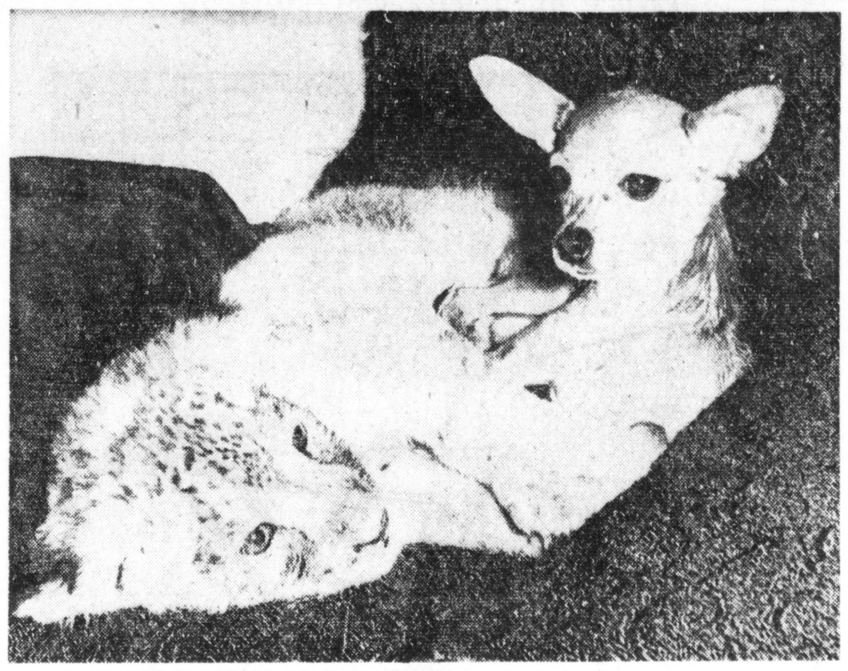

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calderon of Summers avenue were visiting neighbors across the street when a string of 20 lights on the garage door vanished.

Theodore Calvin Kutzer of 720 Sun lane heard his dog barking about 9 p.m. This morning, a string of 12 lights, 15 feet long, was gone from his tree in the front yard.

Meeting Canceled

Next Tuesday night's regular meeting of the Reed Union School District's board of trustees has been canceled because of Christmas vacation, according to Supt. Paul R. Stouffer. The next meeting will be held Jan. 12.

A Bible produced at Geneva in 1560 was called the Breeches Bible. Genesis 3:7 reads: "And they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves breeches."

PALS NOW BUT LATER?

Pogo, a Chihuahua, and Leo, 3-week-old lion cub, are buddies at a Dayton, Ohio, home, but things may be different when Leo gets his growth. He'll weigh 100 pounds in six months and may grow to 600 pounds, the weight of his father. At the moment, he drinks from a baby bottle, purrs and sits on his master's lap. (AP Wirephoto)

Transit Setup Seen Feasible On $500 Million Bond Issue

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A bond issue of 500 million dollars, and possibly considerably less, should be sufficient support from Bay Area taxpayers to guarantee a 700-million-dollar rapid transit system.

That is the opinion of John M. Peirce, general manager of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District who testified yesterday before the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation and Commerce.

He said the state, by agreeing to pledge Bay Bridge reserves for revenue bonds for a transbay transit train tube, reduced the bond total by about 115 million dollars. He said another 90 million could be trimmed from the 700 million by leasing trains instead of buying them.

Peirce said the bond issue could be reduced further if Santa Clara County joins the transit district.

Peirce said the district's engineering studies for the system are 55 per cent complete. A separate study is being made on engineering aspects of getting transit trains across the Golden Gate Bridge into Marin County.

The general manager said the transit bonds may not be on the ballot next November, indicating that district directors are against offering their bond issue on the same ballot with the state's proposed 1.75-billion-dollar water development bond issue.

Lagunitas School To Let Some Kids Out Earlier

The Lagunitas School District Board last night approved a plan that will permit dismissal of the afternoon sessions of the split-session first and second grades 20 minutes earlier—at 4:40 p.m. instead of 5.

The board hopes to have assistance from parents or other persons during the noon hour to relieve primary teachers from lunch hour duty. This will enable the school to begin afternoon sessions at 12:40 instead of 1 p.m. and dismiss earlier.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye said he hopes the new system will go into effect with the new year.

The board decided not to have a chairman for a tax increase campaign and to publicize the Jan. 12 election without a formal citizens' organization. Residents will vote on a proposed $2 maximum general purpose tax rate for a five-year period. This represents no increase over the present $2 rate, which will expire next June 30 unless its continuance is authorized.

The board approved the $1,260 low bid of Anchor Post Products Co. of San Francisco to erect a chain link fence in front of the school.

Also approved was the $278 bid of McPhail's, San Rafael, to put safety valves on the furnace and water heaters.

Frye reported that 35 children are enrolled in the new instrumental music program.

Older berths may be had in two-boat quarters for $15 to $18 per boat, a spokesman said, with some of the smaller berths as low as $12.

Basis for the new berths is 40 cents a foot, which compares with a former Marina Yacht Harbor monthly rate of 35 cents and a new rate of $1.05.

No increases have been made so far at the Lowrie Yacht Harbor in San Rafael, but raises may be considered, it was said. Here is the approximate card for Lowrie: 20-foot berth, $15, 30-feet. $20; 40 feet, $25; 42 feet, $30; 50 feet, $35; 60 feet, $40.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES

A Lowrie spokesman volunteered that for comparative figures a card just received from Pacific Marina in Alameda, just building, is of interest. With a reduction for six months payment in advance, the card rate stands at $15 for the 20-foot berths, $21 for 28 feet, $26.25 for 35 feet and $31.50 for 42 feet.

Nunes Brothers in Sausalito rent a berth 30 feet long, with water and electricity included, at $20 a month. There is is $25 for 40 feet.

"We used to get $15 for the 30-foot size," a spokesman commented. "All the yacht harbors are raising their rates."

Costs of new berth construction lately have been "astonishing", it was said.

Tree Vandal On Loose In Novato Area

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine reported that at least three outdoor trees were stripped of lights between 8 and 10 o'clock last night.

Elmer Nels Fredrickson of 1868 Virginia avenue said that while he was reading in his home between 8 and 8:45 p.m., someone stole two sets of lights containing about 25 bulbs from his outdoor tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calderon of Summers avenue were visiting neighbors across the street when a string of 20 lights on the garage door vanished.

Theodore Calvin Kutzer of 720 Sun lane heard his dog barking about 9 p.m. This morning, a string of 12 lights, 15 feet long, was gone from his tree in the front yard.

Meeting Canceled

Next Tuesday night's regular meeting of the Reed Union School District's board of trustees has been canceled because of Christmas vacation, according to Supt. Paul R. Stouffer. The next meeting will be held Jan. 12.

A Bible produced at Geneva in 1560 was called the Breeches Bible. Genesis 3:7 reads: "And they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves breeches."

PALS NOW BUT LATER?

Pogo, a Chihuahua, and Leo, 3-week-old lion cub, are buddies at a Dayton, Ohio, home, but things may be different when Leo gets his growth. He'll weigh 100 pounds in six months and may grow to 600 pounds, the weight of his father. At the moment, he drinks from a baby bottle, purrs and sits on his master's lap. (AP Wirephoto)

Transit Setup Seen Feasible On $500 Million Bond Issue

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A bond issue of 500 million dollars, and possibly considerably less, should be sufficient support from Bay Area taxpayers to guarantee a 700-million-dollar rapid transit system.

That is the opinion of John M. Peirce, general manager of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District who testified yesterday before the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation and Commerce.

He said the state, by agreeing to pledge Bay Bridge reserves for revenue bonds for a transbay transit train tube, reduced the bond total by about 115 million dollars. He said another 90 million could be trimmed from the 700 million by leasing trains instead of buying them.

Peirce said the bond issue could be reduced further if Santa Clara County joins the transit district.

Peirce said the district's engineering studies for the system are 55 per cent complete. A separate study is being made on engineering aspects of getting transit trains across the Golden Gate Bridge into Marin County.

The general manager said the transit bonds may not be on the ballot next November, indicating that district directors are against offering their bond issue on the same ballot with the state's proposed 1.75-billion-dollar water development bond issue.

Lagunitas School To Let Some Kids Out Earlier

The Lagunitas School District Board last night approved a plan that will permit dismissal of the afternoon sessions of the split-session first and second grades 20 minutes earlier—at 4:40 p.m. instead of 5.

The board hopes to have assistance from parents or other persons during the noon hour to relieve primary teachers from lunch hour duty. This will enable the school to begin afternoon sessions at 12:40 instead of 1 p.m. and dismiss earlier.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye said he hopes the new system will go into effect with the new year.

The board decided not to have a chairman for a tax increase campaign and to publicize the Jan. 12 election without a formal citizens' organization. Residents will vote on a proposed $2 maximum general purpose tax rate for a five-year period. This represents no increase over the present $2 rate, which will expire next June 30 unless its continuance is authorized.

The board approved the $1,260 low bid of Anchor Post Products Co. of San Francisco to erect a chain link fence in front of the school.

Also approved was the $278 bid of McPhail's, San Rafael, to put safety valves on the furnace and water heaters.

Frye reported that 35 children are enrolled in the new instrumental music program.

Water Shortage Has Caused Additional Fire Hazards

In our concern over the possible water shortage, we must not overlook another potential danger due to the lack of rain.

It is still the fire season in Marin County. Hills are still dangerously dry. Reports of brush fires burning over hundreds of acres in Southern California may seem remote, but it could happen here.

Motorists who carelessly toss lighted cigarettes out of their car windows while driving up the Waldo grade, might pause and give thought to what they could start.

The county fire department is so concerned it is being maintained at full strength. No vacations yet for the firemen—and there probably won't be until the hills turn green.

But grass blazes are not the only fire danger at this time of year. Christmas trees in homes add another hazard.

This year particularly, when there was so little rain in the mountains, the trees are not as vigorously green as in other years. They are more likely to day out quicker. When you see those pine needles start to fall, that's a warning that the tree is really dry and the faster you get it out of the house the better.

There are two other big fire dangers around the holidays. Often the oldest, most frayed extension cords are dug out of storage to reach the tree from the wall plug. There's only one thing that should be done with such cords—get rid of them.

And again, people who like their Christmas trees often hate to turn them out, so they leave the house with the lights still burning merrily. Sometimes when they return, the house isn't there any more.

We don't want to dampen your Christmas spirits. But warning you to be careful won't dampen your spirits half as much as only a little one alarm fire would.

Congregations Of Sparrows

This is the time of year when bunches of various kinds of sparrows cluster together in trees and bushes and quietly commiserate with each other about the cold.

The passions and hatreds of the mating season are long past. They have no reason to fight for food because sparrows are largely seed eaters and seeds of one kind or another are generally plentiful the year round in Marin.

From the sweet-singing Golden Crown to the chattering English sparrows gather in groups. Occasionally they will be joined by a towhee or some other large birds.

But when the sparrows are alone they would be easy to mistake for brown leaves on the branches, except for the fact they are such restless little birds.

Comes Spring, these chummy clubs will break up. Then it will be every sparrow for himself and each will have its own private territory which it will defend with beak, voice and claw against intruders.

Yet, now all are friends. It almost seems that old animosities are forgotten in this season of brotherly love.

Humanity Has Many Languages At Hand For Exchange Of Ideas

NEW YORK (AP)—Life has many languages.

You learn some of them as you go along.

How many languages are there in the world? Maybe 1,000, one might guess. Another would say 5,000.

It partly depends on what you call a language.

A language is a method by which one living thing by an effort, deliberate or not, brings or exchanges a message to another living thing.

Actually there are millions of languages, or variations of languages.

Every two people who approach each other in the world speak two different languages, and they get along only as their languages mesh—or stiffen in silence and retreat into individualism unexpressed.

So it is with nations, as it is with persons.

Language is a marvelous arsenal made up of words, grunts, smells, gestures, sighs, movements — and pauses. It can be eloquent in each or all of these ways, and other ways.

Sight, for example. How often is a falling tear a human battlefield. What two people in love in all history lacked a separate kind of signal for being together?

People being as various as they are, no dictionary could possibly sum up all the varieties of human languages though learned scholars do make periodic appraisals. Their efforts remain a reach, not a conclusion.

Shakespeare seized and shook the English language and made of it an arrow to his own meaning. So do, in their own ability, all individuals in all languages.

Grammar is a roadblock only to the false-educated, language itself is the real hurdle.

THE ONLY REAL RULE of language is to force it to say exactly what you want it to say, no more, no less. And if you do this you can well afford to break every other rule in doing so.

The true majesty of language, as Shakespeare knew, is not to be a prisoner of a previous grammar and a limp, inherited vocabulary but to assail truth vigorously with both old and new words that create a fresh meaning—both for yourself and the other fellow.

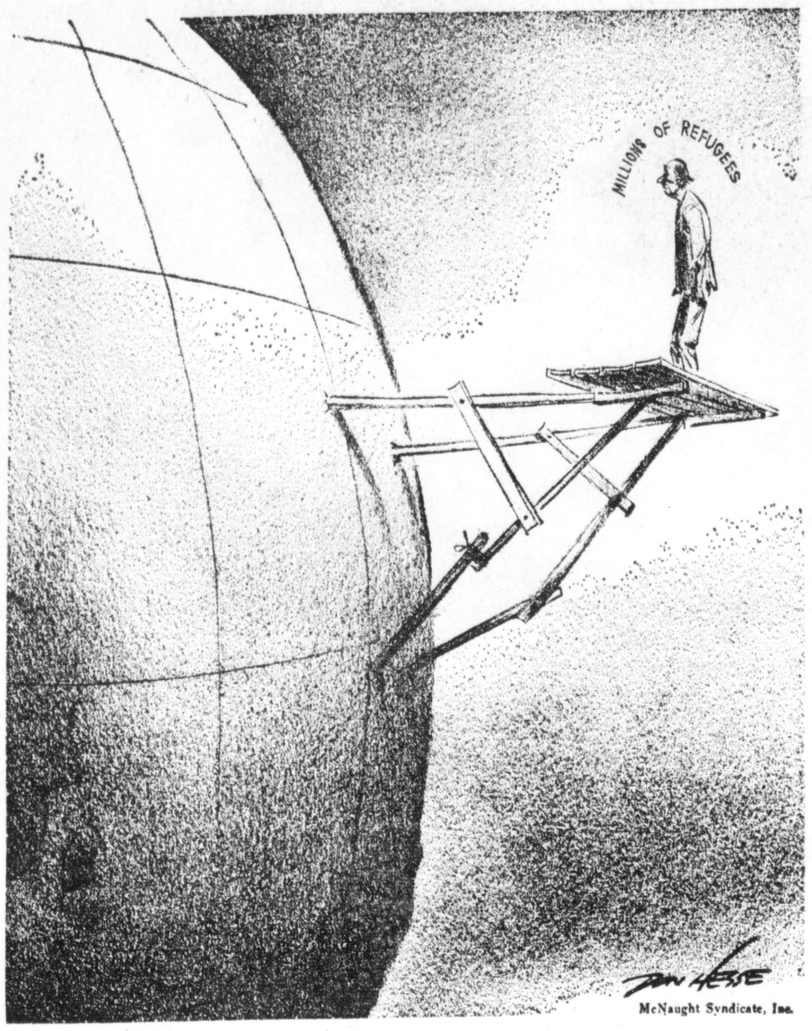

AS YOU STRETCH your language, you stretch yourself. Anyone can be in his own way his own Shakespeare.

Slow Starters Need A Chance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your recent article in the Independent-Journal (Saturday, Dec. 12) concerning "Slow Starters Pose Problem for College," needs further explanation.

I have been at the College of Marin for 30 years and have probably known most of the "slow starters."

The "slow starters" come to the College after 12 years in other Marin County Schools. The College of Marin is their last chance, so far as a public education is concerned, and I believe in giving anyone a last chance.

It is not possible to change study habits significantly between the time a student registers in September and the time he flunks out in January. It has been my experience that more than one semester is needed for the "slow starter" to realize that "this is it."

Coming from high school, where he has been regimented from the time he enters school in the morning until the time he gets out of school at three o'clock in the afternoon, the new-found freedom under which he has to assume the responsibility of regulating his own daily schedule of study and play makes the first semester at college seem like a breeze.

The instructor stands up in front of the class, lectures, and nothing much happens educationally until the seventh or eighth week when the students gets his first grade report. Sometimes this shock treatment sends him to the library, but he is already six weeks behind and that means a lot of material to make up.

In the meantime, the instructor is lecturing on material based on the first six weeks and by the time the bewildered student knows it the semester is over and he is on probation or has "flunked out."

I don't for one minute think we are going to salvage the entire crop, but the history of the junior college in California will prove that a sufficient number are salvaged to warrant keeping them in school for at least a year.

Even the University of California, which only permits the top 15% of our high school graduates to enter, permits them to stay a year and many of the weaker students do make good the second semester. Some of the ones who do not make good the second semester at the university come back to the junior college where they are given another chance and, surprisingly, make good under a little additional "sympathetic home treatment."

Let us take a few examples of the so called "late bloomer" or "slow starter":

Student X came to Marin from Bakersfield Junior College with an average grade of 1.20 (D plus). Under some plans which I have heard about recently, he would never have been permitted to attend his second semester at Bakersfield and certainly on the basis of his record there, should never have been admitted to Marin. At Marin his grade average for courses taken at Marin was 2.9 (nearly a B Average). He wanted to be a medical doctor. After graduation at Marin he was admitted to one of the leading medical schools in the state. Today he is a very successful physician and surgeon in the East Bay. Was he worth a second chance? I believe so.

Let's take a more recent case. Student Y came to us after having graduated from Marin Catholic High School with a very mediocre record. His average grade at the end of six semesters was 1.0 (D average). He probably had been "on the carpet" more than any other student we had ever had. He was one of the best card players in the "Cafeteria Fraternity." Nothing seemed to disturb him and he should have been flunked out.

However, our tests showed that he had an I.Q. of 127; not bad, when you consider that an I.Q. of 115 is considered by Dr. Conant to indicate an academically talented student. Finally, in 1954 Uncle Sam caught up with him and he served two years in the Army. On his discharge he wanted to return to Marin.

The Dean of Men threw up his hands in despair, "Return to Marin? Never, if he had anything to say about it!" To make a long story short, I approved his return and he completed 31 units with an average grade of 3.1 (B plus). He then applied to a well known Bay Area university and was immediately denied admission. Back he came to me. Armed with a letter from me, which fully outlined his progress, the university president admitted him. His grades have been thoroughly satisfactory at this university. He will graduate in January and plans to continue for an additional year to secure a general secondary credential and teach in high school. The university is sure that he will be able to.

Many of the cases do not turn out as happily; but I know, and count among my younger friends, many Marin County residents and taxpayers, men and women who attended the College of Marin for at least one year but did not make grades high enough to go on and sometimes not high enough to return to Marin. I believe they are better voters and citizens and taxpayers for their experience.

Fluoridationists Urge Health Too

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The letter of Mrs. Edith Foley (Dec. 14) equating dental health with physical health leaves the inescapable conclusion that this theory is at odds with those who advocate fluoridation.

Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Mrs. Foley, no responsible fluoridationist maintains for a moment that proper nutrition is NOT essential to good dental health. In fact, nutrition and regular toothbrushing are basic. But fluoridated water, in those areas (like Marin) where the level of fluoride in water is not adequate to make teeth decay-resistant, can provide great assistance. The U.S. Public Health Service tells us that it can reduce the amount of decay normal teeth are heir to by two-thirds.

Look at it this way: dentists have been saying for years that improper diet (for example, candy and pop) is injurious to teeth, yet this has not cut the rate of tooth decay any more than the cancer scare has cut the consumption of cigarets. But since we have in fluoridated water, which is so highly recommended by physicians and dentists, a preventive which can reduce tooth decay, it seems at once ludicrous and tragic that we do not adopt it as soon possible. . . .

Think not, Mrs. Foley, that you are alone in your desire for adequate diet for all. But do think that fluoride as an element added to your diet can help to maintain healthy teeth. The cost is less than 25c a year.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A touching story of young love was unfolded in Flatbush when a local beauty and her fiance, sheduled to be married in a big church wedding six weeks later, eloped to Maryland. "Why did you do it?" sobbed the bride's mother when she returned. "Your wedding would have been a social triumph." Daughter sought to soothe her with "We thought we'd better get married fast before we got sick of each other."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Here's Why Bother With A Plumber When You Can Do It Yourself

Try to avoid the price of a plumber, and you run into trouble.

It all started with the idea that we should stop doing diapers by hand in the bathtub. Other clothes, too.

So we bought a washing machine. That was months ago. And the idea turned out, for awhile, to be a fine one.

The machine is one of those things in which you place dirty clothes, some soap, and then turn some knobs. After that the things churn around a bit and make interesting noises, lights flash and bells ring. Then you have a nice wad of wet laundry that you pick out and hang up. (We haven't gotten to the automatic drier stage.)

THEN WE MOVED, and the washer, an old friend by that time, went right along with us. We simply hooked up some hoses to some faucets, and another big long black hose to a drainpipe that stood sturdily along a wall.

Then we moved again. And that's when I decided I was a better plumber and carpenter than I could hire.

The first thing was that the previous owners had another kind of washing machine. It stood on a block of concrete that is fastened to more concrete in the floor. Our washer would not fit just right on that block, and first of all there were two metal things sticking out of it that had to be cut down.

SO I SET ABOUT fooling the experts. First I borrowed a saw that could cut metal, and the lender gave me instructions on how I turned this thing and that to get the blade in the right position.

So I sawed and sawed and sawed. It was like cutting frozen butter with a Christmas card. It worked. Hour later, it worked. Then I cut the other metal thing off.

The only way, I devined, that I could get the washer to sit on that block was to build a little wooden platform on the block. That's simple, I thought. And hours later, with blood pouring from my fingertips, I had built the platform. I even put a fancy metal stripping along the front edge to make it look professional. It's a little lop-sided.

But I did something else real smart. Before I moved that little old washing machine in there, I purchased a pipe for the drain, and before that I rented a big pipe wrench to remove the nipple of the old pipe. Otherwise the pipe for the drain would not fit. This is really getting technical. But we big contractors always like to throw around words that no one else understands.

WELL, ANYWAY, I got the drain pipe on and we pushed the machine into place. Then with an old wooden spoon I poked around behind the machine to straighten out all those hoses and cords to get them adjusted just right. The main difficulty in that operation was stomach. It kept getting in the way.

We sent a small boy behind there to try to get the drain hooked, but he didn't understand what we were talking about, and he kept darting out front to ask us what we were doing. He's still asking.

AS A MATTER of fact the drain pipe was too low. I mean I can't fit the drain hose into it. And I'll be blamed if I'll move out the washer again loosen all those hoses and cords and get out the drain pipe. Plumber could probably put an extension on it in a jiffy.

He's not going to get a chance. I've searched high and low for some kind of an extension — plastic or something. Store people are looking at me with a sort of vague distrust.

But I think I've hit on a solution. Maybe one of those chrome tailpipe extensions. Then I'll get some tape and . . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Atomic Experts' Disarmament Plan Has Holes But Worth Discussing

While another presidential committee is searching for a U. S. disarmament policy, one of the most informed critics of the administration's past disarmament programs has come forward with a new and concrete proposal of his own.

Its author is Thomas E. Murray, a long time member of the Atomic Energy Commission and now consultant to the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. His knowledge and experience give him the credentials to speak out. His ideas should not be lightly dismissed.

It seems to me that Murray has made a strong case for the kind of disarmament he wants to achieve and a debatable case for the method by which he aims to achieve it.

HIS PURPOSE is to dismantle the capacity of any nation to use "violence" to further political ends. He defines violence as the use of military power in such an extensive, indiscriminating, or even unlimited measure and manner as threatens the existence of all mankind.

His purpose is to retain the use of force either to serve the national interest or to put it behind international law. He defines "force" as the use of military power in such a limited measure and in such a discriminating manner that its use can be made to serve legitimate political goals.

It seems to me that Murray is talking honestly and candidly. He is saying that to propound grandiose disarmament schemes to discard everything is either foolhardy or misleading. He believes that discriminate force must be retained as defense against aggression and also be available to serve collective security through the U. N. or other organizations.

IN HIS SPEECH outlining his concept before the Institute of World Affairs in Pasadena, Murray put it this way:

"The past decade has been an era of terror because over it has hung the threat of violence — uncontrolled, unlimited, both politically and morally absurd. Our immediate and urgent purpose, therefore, must be to effect an orderly dismantling of the Era of Terror, by dissipating this threat of violence."

His concrete proposal for doing this has two parts:

1 — That an international agency be constituted and located on neutral territory and empowered to supervise the systematic destruction of the megaton weapons in the American and Soviet stockpiles.

2 — That the destruction be done on a matching basis, weapon by equal weapon, that each side hand over to the agency one megaton weapon at a time, beginning with the highest range.

THERE ARE certainly some questions which must be raised concerning the method Murray proposed to achieve his purpose.

He proposes megaton disarmament without verification If Russia wants such disarmament as much as we do, why shouldn't she accept inspection?

He says: "We must assume that the Soviet stockpile matches our own." But what if ours doesn't match Russia's? Then the Soviets will be left with undestroyed megaton bombs.

Under the Murray plan, neither side would know what, if any, the other side had left. Wouldn't that create intolerable tension?

I am not suggesting that Murray may not have good answers for these questions. I am suggesting that he has begun a constructive, timely debate and that his proposals deserve the most searching consideration.

Shakespeare seized and shook the English language and made of it an arrow to his own meaning. So do, in their own ability, all individuals in all languages.

Grammar is a roadblock only to the false-educated, language itself is the real hurdle.

THE ONLY REAL RULE of language is to force it to say exactly what you want it to say, no more, no less. And if you do this you can well afford to break every other rule in doing so.

The true majesty of language, as Shakespeare knew, is not to be a prisoner of a previous grammar and a limp, inherited vocabulary but to assail truth vigorously with both old and new words that create a fresh meaning—both for yourself and the other fellow.

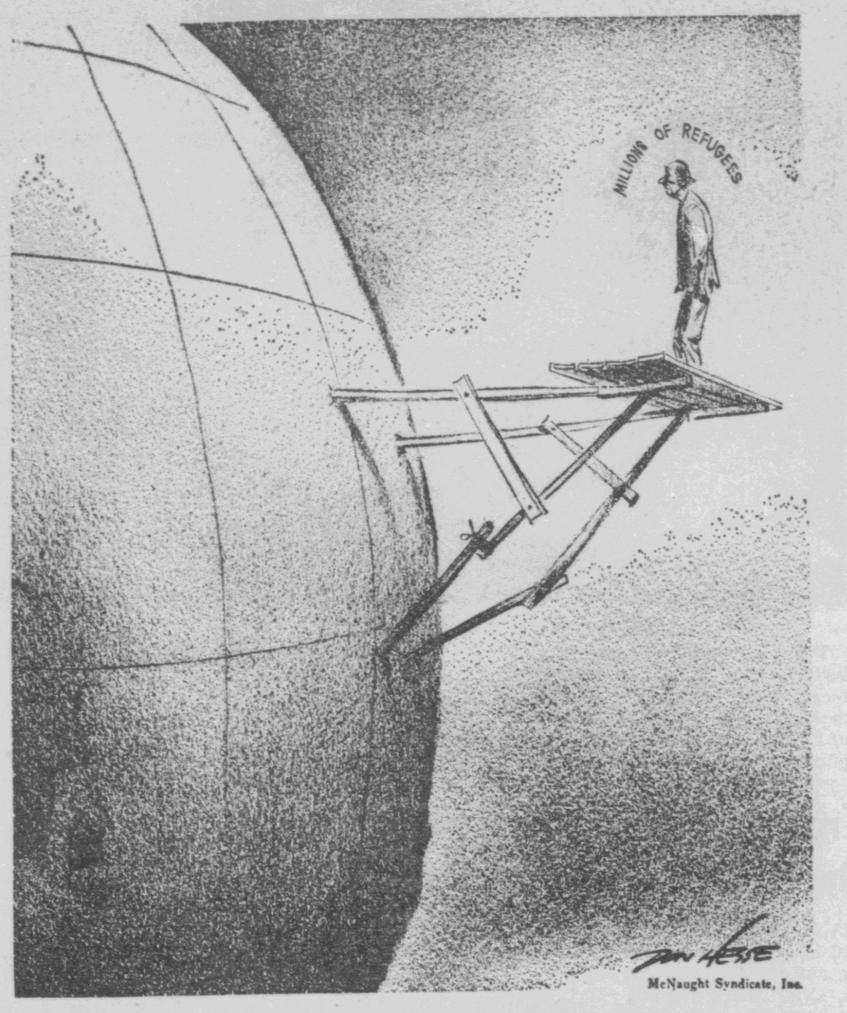

AS YOU STRETCH your language, you stretch yourself. Anyone can be in his own way his own Shakespeare.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your recent article in the Independent-Journal (Saturday, Dec. 12) concerning "Slow Starters Pose Problem for College," needs further explanation.

I have been at the College of Marin for 30 years and have probably known most of the "slow starters."

The "slow starters" come to the College after 12 years in other Marin County Schools. The College of Marin is their last chance, so far as a public education is concerned, and I believe in giving anyone a last chance.

It is not possible to change study habits significantly between the time a student registers in September and the time he flunks out in January. It has been my experience that more than one semester is needed for the "slow starter" to realize that "this is it."

Coming from high school, where he has been regimented from the time he enters school in the morning until the time he gets out of school at three o'clock in the afternoon, the new-found freedom under which he has to assume the responsibility of regulating his own daily schedule of study and play makes the first semester at college seem like a breeze.

The instructor stands up in front of the class, lectures, and nothing much happens educationally until the seventh or eighth week when the students gets his first grade report. Sometimes this shock treatment sends him to the library, but he is already six weeks behind and that means a lot of material to make up.

In the meantime, the instructor is lecturing on material based on the first six weeks and by the time the bewildered student knows it the semester is over and he is on probation or has "flunked out."

I don't for one minute think we are going to salvage the entire crop, but the history of the junior college in California will prove that a sufficient number are salvaged to warrant keeping them in school for at least a year.

Even the University of California, which only permits the top 15% of our high school graduates to enter, permits them to stay a year and many of the weaker students do make good the second semester. Some of the ones who do not make good the second semester at the university come back to the junior college where they are given another chance and, surprisingly, make good under a little additional "sympathetic home treatment."

Let us take a few examples of the so called "late bloomer" or "slow starter":

Student X came to Marin from Bakersfield Junior College with an average grade of 1.20 (D plus). Under some plans which I have heard about recently, he would never have been permitted to attend his second semester at Bakersfield and certainly on the basis of his record there, should never have been admitted to Marin. At Marin his grade average for courses taken at Marin was 2.9 (nearly a B Average). He wanted to be a medical doctor. After graduation at Marin he was admitted to one of the leading medical schools in the state. Today he is a very successful physician and surgeon in the East Bay. Was he worth a second chance? I believe so.

Let's take a more recent case. Student Y came to us after having graduated from Marin Catholic High School with a very mediocre record. His average grade at the end of six semesters was 1.0 (D average). He probably had been "on the carpet" more than any other student we had ever had. He was one of the best card players in the "Cafeteria Fraternity." Nothing seemed to disturb him and he should have been flunked out.

However, our tests showed that he had an I.Q. of 127; not bad, when you consider that an I.Q. of 115 is considered by Dr. Conant to indicate an academically talented student. Finally, in 1954 Uncle Sam caught up with him and he served two years in the Army. On his discharge he wanted to return to Marin.

The Dean of Men threw up his hands in despair, "Return to Marin? Never, if he had anything to say about it!" To make a long story short, I approved his return and he completed 31 units with an average grade of 3.1 (B plus). He then applied to a well known Bay Area university and was immediately denied admission. Back he came to me. Armed with a letter from me, which fully outlined his progress, the university president admitted him. His grades have been thoroughly satisfactory at this university. He will graduate in January and plans to continue for an additional year to secure a general secondary credential and teach in high school. The university is sure that he will be able to.

Many of the cases do not turn out as happily; but I know, and count among my younger friends, many Marin County residents and taxpayers, men and women who attended the College of Marin for at least one year but did not make grades high enough to go on and sometimes not high enough to return to Marin. I believe they are better voters and citizens and taxpayers for their experience.

Fluoridationists Urge Health Too

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The letter of Mrs. Edith Foley (Dec. 14) equating dental health with physical health leaves the inescapable conclusion that this theory is at odds with those who advocate fluoridation.

Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Mrs. Foley, no responsible fluoridationist maintains for a moment that proper nutrition is NOT essential to good dental health. In fact, nutrition and regular toothbrushing are basic. But fluoridated water, in those areas (like Marin) where the level of fluoride in water is not adequate to make teeth decay-resistant, can provide great assistance. The U.S. Public Health Service tells us that it can reduce the amount of decay normal teeth are heir to by two-thirds.

Look at it this way: dentists have been saying for years that improper diet (for example, candy and pop) is injurious to teeth, yet this has not cut the rate of tooth decay any more than the cancer scare has cut the consumption of cigarets. But since we have in fluoridated water, which is so highly recommended by physicians and dentists, a preventive which can reduce tooth decay, it seems at once ludicrous and tragic that we do not adopt it as soon possible. . . .

Think not, Mrs. Foley, that you are alone in your desire for adequate diet for all. But do think that fluoride as an element added to your diet can help to maintain healthy teeth. The cost is less than 25c a year.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A touching story of young love was unfolded in Flatbush when a local beauty and her fiance, sheduled to be married in a big church wedding six weeks later, eloped to Maryland. "Why did you do it?" sobbed the bride's mother when she returned. "Your wedding would have been a social triumph." Daughter sought to soothe her with "We thought we'd better get married fast before we got sick of each other."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DONALD G. DAVIS

Here's Why Bother With A Plumber When You Can Do It Yourself

Try to avoid the price of a plumber, and you run into trouble.

It all started with the idea that we should stop doing diapers by hand in the bathtub. Other clothes, too.

So we bought a washing machine. That was months ago. And the idea turned out, for awhile, to be a fine one.

The machine is one of those things in which you place dirty clothes, some soap, and then turn some knobs. After that the things churn around a bit and make interesting noises, lights flash and bells ring. Then you have a nice wad of wet laundry that you pick out and hang up. (We haven't gotten to the automatic drier stage.)

THEN WE MOVED, and the washer, an old friend by that time, went right along with us. We simply hooked up some hoses to some faucets, and another big long black hose to a drainpipe that stood sturdily along a wall.

Then we moved again. And that's when I decided I was a better plumber and carpenter than I could hire.

The first thing was that the previous owners had another kind of washing machine. It stood on a block of concrete that is fastened to more concrete in the floor. Our washer would not fit just right on that block, and first of all there were two metal things sticking out of it that had to be cut down.

SO I SET ABOUT fooling the experts. First I borrowed a saw that could cut metal, and the lender gave me instructions on how I turned this thing and that to get the blade in the right position.

So I sawed and sawed and sawed. It was like cutting frozen butter with a Christmas card. It worked. Hour later, it worked. Then I cut the other metal thing off.

The only way, I devined, that I could get the washer to sit on that block was to build a little wooden platform on the block. That's simple, I thought. And hours later, with blood pouring from my fingertips, I had built the platform. I even put a fancy metal stripping along the front edge to make it look professional. It's a little lop-sided.

But I did something else real smart. Before I moved that little old washing machine in there, I purchased a pipe for the drain, and before that I rented a big pipe wrench to remove the nipple of the old pipe. Otherwise the pipe for the drain would not fit. This is really getting technical. But we big contractors always like to throw around words that no one else understands.

WELL, ANYWAY, I got the drain pipe on and we pushed the machine into place. Then with an old wooden spoon I poked around behind the machine to straighten out all those hoses and cords to get them adjusted just right. The main difficulty in that operation was stomach. It kept getting in the way.

We sent a small boy behind there to try to get the drain hooked, but he didn't understand what we were talking about, and he kept darting out front to ask us what we were doing. He's still asking.

AS A MATTER of fact the drain pipe was too low. I mean I can't fit the drain hose into it. And I'll be blamed if I'll move out the washer again loosen all those hoses and cords and get out the drain pipe. Plumber could probably put an extension on it in a jiffy.

He's not going to get a chance. I've searched high and low for some kind of an extension — plastic or something. Store people are looking at me with a sort of vague distrust.

But I think I've hit on a solution. Maybe one of those chrome tailpipe extensions. Then I'll get some tape and . . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Atomic Experts' Disarmament Plan Has Holes But Worth Discussing

While another presidential committee is searching for a U. S. disarmament policy, one of the most informed critics of the administration's past disarmament programs has come forward with a new and concrete proposal of his own.

Its author is Thomas E. Murray, a long time member of the Atomic Energy Commission and now consultant to the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. His knowledge and experience give him the credentials to speak out. His ideas should not be lightly dismissed.

It seems to me that Murray has made a strong case for the kind of disarmament he wants to achieve and a debatable case for the method by which he aims to achieve it.

HIS PURPOSE is to dismantle the capacity of any nation to use "violence" to further political ends. He defines violence as the use of military power in such an extensive, indiscriminating, or even unlimited measure and manner as threatens the existence of all mankind.

His purpose is to retain the use of force either to serve the national interest or to put it behind international law. He defines "force" as the use of military power in such a limited measure and in such a discriminating manner that its use can be made to serve legitimate political goals.

It seems to me that Murray is talking honestly and candidly. He is saying that to propound grandiose disarmament schemes to discard everything is either foolhardy or misleading. He believes that discriminate force must be retained as defense against aggression and also be available to serve collective security through the U. N. or other organizations.

IN HIS SPEECH outlining his concept before the Institute of World Affairs in Pasadena, Murray put it this way:

"The past decade has been an era of terror because over it has hung the threat of violence — uncontrolled, unlimited, both politically and morally absurd. Our immediate and urgent purpose, therefore, must be to effect an orderly dismantling of the Era of Terror, by dissipating this threat of violence."

His concrete proposal for doing this has two parts:

1 — That an international agency be constituted and located on neutral territory and empowered to supervise the systematic destruction of the megaton weapons in the American and Soviet stockpiles.

2 — That the destruction be done on a matching basis, weapon by equal weapon, that each side hand over to the agency one megaton weapon at a time, beginning with the highest range.

THERE ARE certainly some questions which must be raised concerning the method Murray proposed to achieve his purpose.

He proposes megaton disarmament without verification If Russia wants such disarmament as much as we do, why shouldn't she accept inspection?

He says: "We must assume that the Soviet stockpile matches our own." But what if ours doesn't match Russia's? Then the Soviets will be left with undestroyed megaton bombs.

Under the Murray plan, neither side would know what, if any, the other side had left. Wouldn't that create intolerable tension?

I am not suggesting that Murray may not have good answers for these questions. I am suggesting that he has begun a constructive, timely debate and that his proposals deserve the most searching consideration.

Santa Venetia Resident Reports Mail Torn Up

Somebody stole mail from a mailbox in Santa Venetia and tore up the contents, Robert A. Tozer of 835 Rosal way complained to the sheriff yesterday.

Tozer found three letters scattered on the lawn. One was intact, but the others torn. Investigators said there were smudges on the top of the mailbox which appeared to be from the fingers of a small child.

Dollar Value Of Building Up In Marin

Marin County was one of two Bay Area counties in which the dollar value of authorized building construction increased in November over the previous month, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

In the other seven area counties and in the Bay Area as a whole, the dollar value of building permits issued declined.

Construction valued at $3,100,000 was authorized in Marin for November, compared with $2,895,000 for October and $2,377,000 for the same month last year.

In the whole Bay Area, a total of 54.2 million dollars in construction was authorized in November, a decrease of 22.9 million from October and 5.3 million from November, 1958. Declines in housing permits accounted for 18 million while other permits declined five million.

In Marin, 148 new dwelling units were authorized in November, an increase of 10 over the previous month and 17 more than in October, 1958. Dollar value of the units was $2,416,000 in November, $2,193,000 in October, and $1,729,000 in November a year ago.

Industrial building also showed an increase in Marin. A total of $201,000 in permits was issued in November, compared with $52,000 for the same period last year.

Wielder Of Knife Draws Jail Term

Frank Edward Molles, 20, San Rafael brickyard worker, must spend the next three months in Marin County Jail.

He was sentenced yesterday by Judge Harold J. Haley for pulling a switchblade knife at the Flat Iron bar in San Rafael on Nov. 17.

The judge sentenced Molles 30 days in jail for illegal possession of the switchblade knife, 15 days for resisting arrest, 15 days for disturbing the peace, and 30 days for violating probation.

2 Kidnap Suspects Waive Extradition

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Two young kidnap suspects have waived extradition and will be returned to California to stand trial.

Gene York, 18, of Visalia, and Merle Lee Smith, 18, San Jose, were captured amid bursts of gunfire at a motel here late Wednesday.

York's wife, Sharon, 16, was booked into city jail yesterday on charges of aiding the men in an armed robbery, a kidnaping and theft of a car.

The men are wanted in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Clara Hoeller, 78, San Jose, and Peter Trimborn, 74.

WILD ANIMALS CRASH CAGES, KILL PET BIRDS

Wild animals, possibly a family of raccoons, made a pre-Christmas feast of 13 pet birds kept in cages at a Novato home.

Cayus Peterson of 1659 Hill road told sheriff's deputies yesterday he found his six quail, three pheasants and four bantam chickens chewed up inside their cages.

Officers found wire screens with 12-inch holes ripped in them. Some soft, greyish-black fur clung to the wire. All the birds were killed and partly eaten.

4-H Club Members Spread Yule Cheer For Retarded Kids

Two classrooms of retarded children at Mill Valley's Alto School were to have a special treat at 12:30 p.m. today—a visit by Old St. Nick.

Padded with pillows, Santa Clause will be John Thomas of Novato, one of a group of nine Marin County High 4-H members putting on the program for 30 youngsters.

The High 4-H members have collected money, through various work projects, with which to buy a present for each of the Alto children, see that it is wrapped attractively and make the delivery. The 4-H Club members provided refreshments and entertainment for the school party.

This is the second year the group has put on the program for the children who attend the school from all over the county.

Four-H members on the committee are Shirley Cowan, chairman; Donna Dewing, and Mike Barnes, all of San Rafael; John Thomas and Sally Good of Novato; Maryellen Taylor and Patty Miller of San Anselmo; Chris Dauphinee and Sherri Luzzi of Santa Venetia.

San Mateo County United Fund directors objected to distribution of the funds in deciding to go it alone.

Two resolutions were approved at the Marin meeting. One is that budget and allocation funds for certain types of agencies be presented in just one place in the Bay Area instead of in all five counties for the allocation of 1960 campaign proceeds. (This refers to money from next year's campaign.)

The second approves allocation of 1960 campaign proceeds to the fund in the same method as in 1959.

Smith, British-born, came to Marin about two years ago and was shop foreman for Commodore Aviation until the firm was sold to Seed Aviation Co. last June.

Smith's wife, Arleen, said he took off for Alaska Nov. 23. In a letter to her mailed two or three weeks ago from Fairbanks, he alluded to engine trouble, saying the crew had been stuck at several places waiting for spare parts to arrive.

"He had hoped to be home by Thanksgiving," said Mrs. Smith, "and certainly expected to be back by Christmas. . . . The ironic thing about it is that he hates flying, but loves to work on the motors."

Scott, the co-pilot, worked on the Commodore Aviation maintenance line until the company changed hands. He also was part owner of Seed Aviation, which took over Commodore. He was employed by Commodore in Sausalito about two years, Law reported.

grams for use by residents of all San Rafael.

The chief problem in the Terra Linda valley at present is of a "political nature," he pointed out. San Rafael annexed Freitas ranch lands this year, bringing the northern city line to Freitas parkway. Homes to the north of the parkway are in unincorporated area and mostly under the jurisdiction of the Terra Linda Community Services District.

Annexation to San Rafael of about half the homes in the unincorporated area was petitioned several months ago. This was blocked by an incorporation movement by another faction in Terra Linda. Then the two groups said they would compromise their differences and seek a vote on the annexation of all of Terra Linda.

"If there is a special call, smog legislation has the highest priority," the governor said. "I do think we have to move ahead on the air pollution program without waiting a year."

The cost of the special recall election Dec. 8 in the Tiburon Fire Protection District was $423.05, according to district commission vice chairman Fred C. Hannahs.

He said a statement sent him by County Clerk George S. Jones listed election officers costing $126 and ballot cost at $104.52 as the larger items. Previously cost had been estimated at $600.

Santa Venetia Resident Reports Mail Torn Up

Somebody stole mail from a mailbox in Santa Venetia and tore up the contents, Robert A. Tozer of 835 Rosal way complained to the sheriff yesterday.

Tozer found three letters scattered on the lawn. One was intact, but the others torn. Investigators said there were smudges on the top of the mailbox which appeared to be from the fingers of a small child.

Dollar Value Of Building Up In Marin

Marin County was one of two Bay Area counties in which the dollar value of authorized building construction increased in November over the previous month, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

In the other seven area counties and in the Bay Area as a whole, the dollar value of building permits issued declined.

Construction valued at $3,100,000 was authorized in Marin for November, compared with $2,895,000 for October and $2,377,000 for the same month last year.

In the whole Bay Area, a total of 54.2 million dollars in construction was authorized in November, a decrease of 22.9 million from October and 5.3 million from November, 1958. Declines in housing permits accounted for 18 million while other permits declined five million.

In Marin, 148 new dwelling units were authorized in November, an increase of 10 over the previous month and 17 more than in October, 1958. Dollar value of the units was $2,416,000 in November, $2,193,000 in October, and $1,729,000 in November a year ago.

Industrial building also showed an increase in Marin. A total of $201,000 in permits was issued in November, compared with $52,000 for the same period last year.

Wielder Of Knife Draws Jail Term

Frank Edward Molles, 20, San Rafael brickyard worker, must spend the next three months in Marin County Jail.

He was sentenced yesterday by Judge Harold J. Haley for pulling a switchblade knife at the Flat Iron bar in San Rafael on Nov. 17.

The judge sentenced Molles 30 days in jail for illegal possession of the switchblade knife, 15 days for resisting arrest, 15 days for disturbing the peace, and 30 days for violating probation.

2 Kidnap Suspects Waive Extradition

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Two young kidnap suspects have waived extradition and will be returned to California to stand trial.

Gene York, 18, of Visalia, and Merle Lee Smith, 18, San Jose, were captured amid bursts of gunfire at a motel here late Wednesday.

York's wife, Sharon, 16, was booked into city jail yesterday on charges of aiding the men in an armed robbery, a kidnaping and theft of a car.

The men are wanted in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Clara Hoeller, 78, San Jose, and Peter Trimborn, 74.

WILD ANIMALS CRASH CAGES, KILL PET BIRDS

Wild animals, possibly a family of raccoons, made a pre-Christmas feast of 13 pet birds kept in cages at a Novato home.

Cayus Peterson of 1659 Hill road told sheriff's deputies yesterday he found his six quail, three pheasants and four bantam chickens chewed up inside their cages.

Officers found wire screens with 12-inch holes ripped in them. Some soft, greyish-black fur clung to the wire. All the birds were killed and partly eaten.

4-H Club Members Spread Yule Cheer For Retarded Kids

Two classrooms of retarded children at Mill Valley's Alto School were to have a special treat at 12:30 p.m. today—a visit by Old St. Nick.

Padded with pillows, Santa Clause will be John Thomas of Novato, one of a group of nine Marin County High 4-H members putting on the program for 30 youngsters.

The High 4-H members have collected money, through various work projects, with which to buy a present for each of the Alto children, see that it is wrapped attractively and make the delivery. The 4-H Club members provided refreshments and entertainment for the school party.

This is the second year the group has put on the program for the children who attend the school from all over the county.

San Mateo County United Fund directors objected to distribution of the funds in deciding to go it alone.

Two resolutions were approved at the Marin meeting. One is that budget and allocation funds for certain types of agencies be presented in just one place in the Bay Area instead of in all five counties for the allocation of 1960 campaign proceeds. (This refers to money from next year's campaign.)

The second approves allocation of 1960 campaign proceeds to the fund in the same method as in 1959.

The Coast Guard reported pilot Gray made no mention of passengers in his radio signal. Meath and the unidentified man and woman may have left the plane at Juneau or some other stop en route, it was pointed out.

Smith, British-born, came to Marin about two years ago and was shop foreman for Commodore Aviation until the firm was sold to Seed Aviation Co. last June.

Smith's wife, Arleen, said he took off for Alaska Nov. 23. In a letter to her mailed two or three weeks ago from Fairbanks, he alluded to engine trouble, saying the crew had been stuck at several places waiting for spare parts to arrive.

"He had hoped to be home by Thanksgiving," said Mrs. Smith, "and certainly expected to be back by Christmas. . . . The ironic thing about it is that he hates flying, but loves to work on the motors."

Scott, the co-pilot, worked on the Commodore Aviation maintenance line until the company changed hands. He also was part owner of Seed Aviation, which took over Commodore. He was employed by Commodore in Sausalito about two years, Law reported.

The chief problem in the Terra Linda valley at present is of a "political nature," he pointed out. San Rafael annexed Freitas ranch lands this year, bringing the northern city line to Freitas parkway. Homes to the north of the parkway are in unincorporated area and mostly under the jurisdiction of the Terra Linda Community Services District.

Annexation to San Rafael of about half the homes in the unincorporated area was petitioned several months ago. This was blocked by an incorporation movement by another faction in Terra Linda. Then the two groups said they would compromise their differences and seek a vote on the annexation of all of Terra Linda.

Muir Beach Residents Up In Arms At Disappearance Of Their Sand

The sands of Muir Beach have been pouring into the sewers of Tiburon, and a group of Muir Beach residents want it to stop.

Residents watched with interest last July when bulldozers and trucks arrived at the beach property owned by Dr. John P. O'Brien and began hauling away the sand.

Now, some of them are up in arms. The whole beach, they claim is disappearing.

Approximately 5,000 cubic yards of sand from the beach have been poured into the paradise Cay project on the Tiburon peninsula, said Guy Slack, assistant superintendent at the Pullman Development project. It is being used to fill around sewer and water lines John Collier, spokesman for a group of Muir Beach objectors, said residents are afraid "there is no end to the operation." They fear shifting of the beach terrain may permanently damage it for recreational use.

Private beach property, said Collier, is owned from the point known as the mean tide line. The beach below the tide line belongs to the state. Collier claims the sand below the tide line is shifting and drifting in excavation pits dug by bulldozers on O'Brien's property.

On the other side of the sand pile, Robert Bolger, operator of the Muir Beach Tavern, claimed it became necessary to remove sand from the creek bed on O'Brien's land to prevent flooding with onset of this year's winter storms. The creek dried up during the dry year and gradually was filled by drifting sand, said Bolger.

Slack, at the Cay Project where the shifting sands have ended up, said that yesterday was the final day of sand pouring on his sewer project. Dr. O'Brien said he was not planning on allowing any more sand to be removed from his beach.

This morning John Collier looked out his window overlooking the controversial strip of beach and said he saw three piles of sand ready to be hauled away. There were no trucks in view.

PILOT FLEW FASTER THAN HE THOUGHT

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The Air Force has upgraded its claim to the world speed record for jet aircraft—1,525.95 miles per hour instead of 1,520.9.

A spokesman said the revision resulted from final computations on all data collected on Maj. Joseph W. Rogers' flight Tuesday. He was timed in a Convair F106 Delta Dart fighter over this Mojave Desert base.

The major, flying at 40,000 feet, made two passes through an 18-kilometer course.

Hand In The Door

TOLEDO ,Ohio (AP) — It was late at night, the buses had stopped running and, to be on the safe side, Mrs. Marian Hall asked two policemen to drive her home. As she got out of their cruiser she slammed the door on her own hand and had to have it treated at a hospital.

14 PUNCTURES

He Takes Out Anger At Girl On Tires

The rosy glow of love and 14 automobile tires were punctured early today in Sausalito.

The police department received a call at 4:15 a.m. that a suspicious man was fooling around with cars parked along Bridgeway boulevard in the vicinity of the Ondine restaurant.

Sgt. David Cooper and Officer John Higgins found Robert Garden, 24, of the Del Monte Hotel, walking along a line of cars.

They also saw that the lights of several of the cars were turned on, and that 14 tires on 13 cars were flat as pancakes.

"Did you do that?" asked the officers. Garden said he did not. The officers frisked him and found an ice pick. Then he said, yes, he did do it.

Garden, a waiter at the El Lido Cafe, which is next door to the police station, was arrested on charges of carrying a concealed weapon, auto tampering and vagrancy.

Why did you do it? the officers asked.

Because, young Garden said, I was angry at my girl friend.

An average of 59,000 people were admitted to hospitals in the United States each day in 1958.

DKW...70 MILES PER HOUR ON THREE CYLINDERS!
THINK OF THE GAS YOU SAVE

Have you ever cruised at turnpike speeds hours on end on only three cylinders? It's a breeze, a snap, a cinch in a DKW. To begin with, the DKW has only three cylinders. Any more would be a waste. Obviously it's thrifty with fuel, but that's the least of the story.

ONLY SEVEN BASIC MOVING ENGINE PARTS! No valves, no camshafts, no complex timing gear (no timing gear at all). Only three pistons, three connecting rods and a crankshaft. There's virtually nothing to tune, nothing to tinker with. It just runs and runs year after year with almost no parts to wear out or break down. In fact, the DKW engine is almost indestructible.

WHAT MAKES IT TICK? No trick to the tick... just sound engineering! This remarkable engine uses the two-stroke cycle system so that every stroke of the pistons does twice the work of a conventional four-stroke cycle engine. Lubrication is remarkable, too. You add oil to the gas. That's all. There's no oil to change, no filter to clean. In cold weather the DKW starts pronto. No oil can gum up the pistons.

GOES WHERE OTHERS STICK... front wheel drive does the trick! True. The DKW engine powers the front wheels and pulls the car along. Result is better handling on wet roads, uncanny traction through snow, sand, ice, mud, where other cars spin their rear wheels or slither helplessly. Watch your neighbor's eyes open as you nonchalantly park when he's sanding his driveway. And wait till you try the DKW on hilly, twisty roads. It hauls itself up mountains and scampers down with refreshing verve. This is motoring that's not only different, but impressively sensible. Fun, too!

EVER SEE A FLAT FLOOR...IN A CAR? DKW's got it! Absolutely no drive shaft hump because there's no drive shaft. Floors are flat as a table and very spacious. Interiors are genuinely comfortable and elegantly appointed. Instruments are complete and legible.

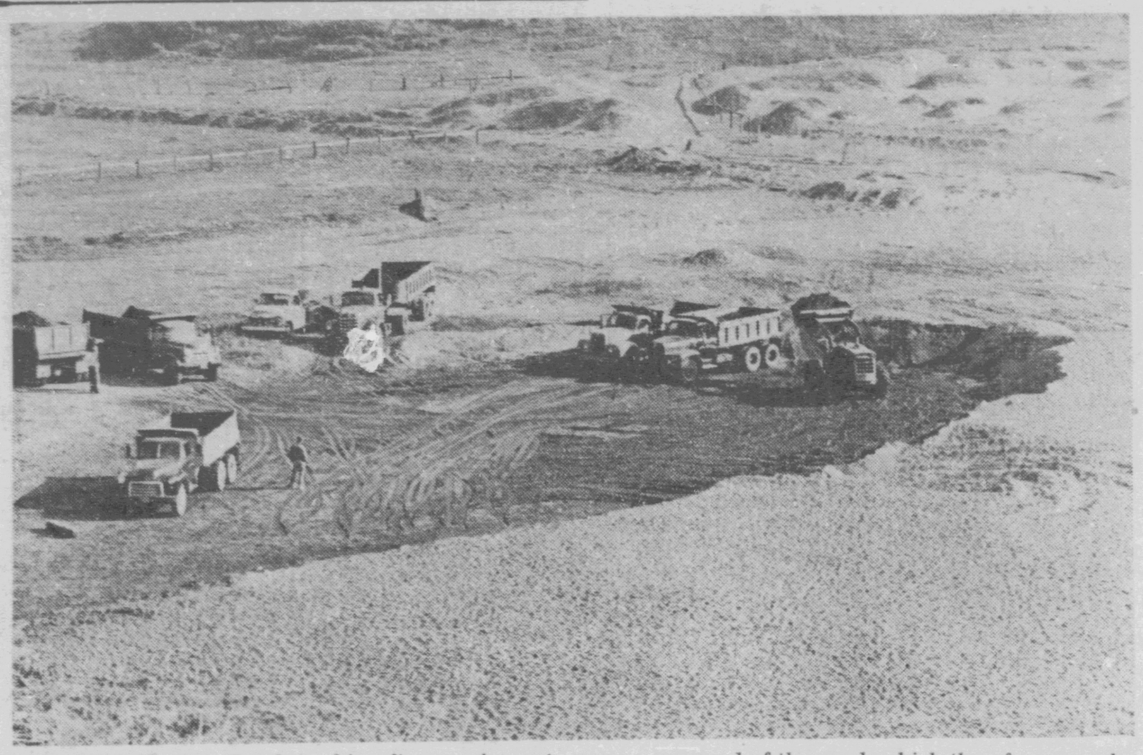

DKW OWNERS CAN BE PROUD BECAUSE of the car's great history. In 1936, '37, '38, '39, Auto Union, manufacturer of the DKW, sent out one of the mightiest teams of race cars in the world. Some of their racing victories and records have to this day never been bettered. The engineering experience and great technical skill accrued through the years, form the basis for the very high quality of the DKW today.

ENJOY A UNIQUE DEMONSTRATION! There's so much more to be said about the DKW. Your Dealer can do it best when you're behind the wheel. See him now and learn why DKW is famous throughout Europe as Das Kleine Wunder.

DKW cars are manufactured by Auto Union in West Germany, which also manufactures Auto Union cars. The line ranges from two-door coupes to station wagons and commercial vehicles. DKW's and Auto Unions are distributed in the U.S.A. by Mercedes-Benz Sales, Inc.

Have you ever cruised at turnpike speeds hours on end on only three cylinders? It's a breeze, a snap, a cinch in a DKW. To begin with, the DKW has only three cylinders. Any more would be a waste. Obviously it's thrifty with fuel, but that's the least of the story.

ONLY SEVEN BASIC MOVING ENGINE PARTS! No valves, no camshafts, no complex timing gear (no timing gear at all). Only three pistons, three connecting rods and a crankshaft. There's virtually nothing to tune, nothing to tinker with. It just runs and runs year after year with almost no parts to wear out or break down. In fact, the DKW engine is almost indestructible.

WHAT MAKES IT TICK? No trick to the tick... just sound engineering! This remarkable engine uses the two-stroke cycle system so that every stroke of the pistons does twice the work of a conventional four-stroke cycle engine. Lubrication is remarkable, too. You add oil to the gas. That's all. There's no oil to change, no filter to clean. In cold weather the DKW starts pronto. No oil can gum up the pistons.

GOES WHERE OTHERS STICK... front wheel drive does the trick! True. The DKW engine powers the front wheels and pulls the car along. Result is better handling on wet roads, uncanny traction through snow, sand, ice, mud, where other cars spin their rear wheels or slither helplessly. Watch your neighbor's eyes open as you nonchalantly park when he's sanding his driveway. And wait till you try the DKW on hilly, twisty roads. It hauls itself up mountains and scampers down with refreshing verve. This is motoring that's not only different, but impressively sensible. Fun, too!

EVER SEE A FLAT FLOOR...IN A CAR? DKW's got it! Absolutely no drive shaft hump because there's no drive shaft. Floors are flat as a table and very spacious. Interiors are genuinely comfortable and elegantly appointed. Instruments are complete and legible.

DKW OWNERS CAN BE PROUD BECAUSE of the car's great history. In 1936, '37, '38, '39, Auto Union, manufacturer of the DKW, sent out one of the mightiest teams of race cars in the world. Some of their racing victories and records have to this day never been bettered. The engineering experience and great technical skill accrued through the years, form the basis for the very high quality of the DKW today.

ENJOY A UNIQUE DEMONSTRATION! There's so much more to be said about the DKW. Your Dealer can do it best when you're behind the wheel. See him now and learn why DKW is famous throughout Europe as Das Kleine Wunder.

DKW cars are manufactured by Auto Union in West Germany, which also manufactures Auto Union cars. The line ranges from two-door coupes to station wagons and commercial vehicles. DKW's and Auto Unions are distributed in the U.S.A. by Mercedes-Benz Sales, Inc.

SANTA'S HELPER — Anne Kimbrough, 21, of Birmingham, Ala., poses with her dog that helped her sailor boy friend reach her with a Christmas card. WHY MAILMEN GO GRAY

Postman Gets Assist From Silly Little Dog

By JACK STILLMAN

Every year, long before the Christmas rush, Uncle Sam begins to plaster billboards with mail-early slogans. But Postmaster Roy Moncus feels that things reach a new low when all depends on a silly looking, long-legged dog.

That was how it looks to him. But it probably looked a great deal different to the sailor somewhere in the Pacific who wanted to send Miss Anne Kimbrough a Christmas card.

The card was addressed:

"Miss Anne Kimbrough; red brick house at top of hill somewhere in Hollywood . . . Postman: You'll know the house by silly looking little long-legged dog who lives there. Homewood, Alabama."

Homewood is a suburb of Birmingham and Hollywood is a suburb of Homewood. That narrowed it down.

The postman who usually delivers the mail in the neighborhood knew of a silly looking long-legged dog that lives in a red brick house.

And so it is—neither rain nor snow, sleet nor hail, or long-legged dogs — shall interfere with the U.S. mail. The card was delivered to the house for which it was intended.

She says her dog, a Manchester, may be funny looking to her friends, "but I think he is darling. They laugh because his legs are about twice as high as his body. They say he looks like a spider."

But she wants to be sure the sailor whose return address said "somewhere in the Pacific" gets her address correct in case he wants to add hearts and flowers in honor of St. Valentine.

The sailor? He is Tim Wheeler Jr., "a friend from high school days," said Anne.

His mother said Tim has worked as a Christmas extra carrier mail in Anne's neighborhood.

Wheeler, 23, was graduated from Auburn last August and entered the Navy Sept. 1. He's an ensign aboard the USS Eldorado.

Frozen Food Weight Hearing Winds Up With Deadlock

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A deadlock among food packers and weights and measures officials has halted a hearing on whether the state should permit frozen food and frankfurter packers to put less in their packages than the wrapper specifies.

The hearing was called to consider a proposal of the western food packers that they be permitted a weight tolerance on 32 types of frozen foods and packaged frankfurters.

William Kuhrt, chief of the state Division of Markets, said yesterday that the hearing was halted when "the frozen food packers couldn't agree with the county sealers (of weights and measuring laws), and the sealers couldn't agree among themselves."

The packers' original proposal would have permitted shortages of from 3 to 12 per cent in food packages. The use of packing machines which turn out up to 300 packages per minute made it difficult to get the exact weight in each package, they claimed.

But the state consumer counsel, Mrs. Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, in her first appearance on behalf of California buyers, said purchasers had come to trust weights and measures on food packages and any tolerance on that weight would result in a loss of trust.

In addition, she said, it would amount to an increase in price on the food because the buyer would be getting less for his money.

The food packing industry suggested that meetings be held in February to come up with a more firm proposal on frozen food weight tolerances.

If such an agreement can be drawn up, the hearing will continue April 12 to determine whether food packages legally could be shorted in weight.

Quentin Transfer Of Slayer Delayed

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Alexander Robillard's transfer to San Quentin Prison's Death Row was postponed yesterday until his attorneys examine transcripts of his trial and prepare motions for a new trial.

The 19-year-old slayer's arraignment for judgment on the death verdict found by a jury last week was set over until next Wednesday.

Two Hurt When Small Car Flips

A driver and woman passenger suffered minor injuries and 64 feet of steel fence along Highway 101 was wrecked when a small car, northbound just north of the San Quentin overpass, went out of control and rolled over about 1 a.m. today.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

CONNOLLY

So Willie Mays wants a raise in pay. The $80,000 S. F. Giant outfielder has confided to friends he thinks he is entitled to a hoist in his check.

Of course Willie might be 100 per cent right. He figures that if the Giants, drawing a maximum of 20,000 daily, could afford 80,000 bucks why couldn't they pick up the pay when they are now in a new park that seats 45,000?

And it ain't a bad idea.

Willie played hot and cold last year. He was hotter than a .45 one day and colder than a landlord's heart the next. But on the season's overall he was right snug up to Orlando Cepeda.

Mays draws the people into the park. He may not be as hot a darwing card in San Francisco as Giant bosses expected, but he drags 'em in on the road.

Cepeda, despite the fact that he truly is a sensational performer, never saw the day he could measure up to Willie, the "Say Hey" kid.

Mays, with a big ball park and an outfield where he can roam to his heart's content, might "arrive" in 1960. I dunno. But I think he will hit the comeback trail in a blaze of glory.

PAYING WILLIE 80,000 clams a season is a lot of money. But in return, Willie turns in a lot of spectacular baseball. He combines hitting with fielding, running and throwing. And in my book there isn't a ball player alive today who can come close to him in all-around ability.

He makes mistakes, but so seldom they are forgotten easily. I only saw him make one bad error of judgment in two years.

But baseball moguls depend on the gate attraction for the dividends.

Cepeda will never be the drawing cards of Mays. And he'll never command the salary Willie gets because he lacks the color, that indefinable word, that makes one ball player a gate attraction and the other an also ran.

MAYS IN San Francisco had to overcome two things he never dreamed of. He had to get accustomed to the wind blowing hard and away from him, and the short fences. Anytime Willie took a running chance at a line drive, Bill Rigney's heart jumped into his vest pocket.

"I could see Willie killing himself a hundred times in the last two years," Rigney recalls. "I knew he was accustomed to racing wildly for line drives and I knew the fences would not permit him to catch 'em. So all I could do was to watch and hope he didn't smack his head against the short fences."

RIGNEY feels that the larger playing field at Candlestick Park is going to be an asset to Willie.

Rig also likes to believe that more flies will be hit in Willie's direction next season than ever before in San Francisco.

"I think 1960 is going to see Willie Mays endearing himself to San Francisco fans," explains Rig. "They've never seen the real Willie in action. Seals Stadium simply cramped his style."

And that is a lot of comment from Rigney who would rather talk about anything in the off-season than his star player. It may be the Stoneham influence.

But Rig is on the dead square about Willie . . . always.

Three Bowl Classics On TV Tomorrow

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alabama (7-1-2) opposes Penn State (8-2) in the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia. Clemson (8-2) meets Texas Christian (8-2) in the Bluebonnet classic at Houston. And Lenoir Rhyne (10-0) of North Carolina plays Texas A&I (11-1) in the NAIA Holiday bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla.

CBS will telecast both the Holiday attraction, which starts at 9:30 a.m. PST and the Bluebonnet, beginning at 12:30 p.m. PST. The Liberty Bowl will be seen at 10 a.m. on NBC.

The Liberty and Bluebonnet bowls are newcomers to the post-season events. The promoters of the games, hoping for financial successes and good weather, have lined up four top teams despite keen competition from the established bowls.

TCU was the nation's seventh ranking team in the final Associated Press poll. Alabama was listed tenth, Clemson eleventh and Penn State twelfth.

LIBERTY BOWL

The Liberty bowl is expected to draw a crowd of 50,000 to Philedelphia Stadium. Both Alabama and Penn State are reported to be in fine physical shape and the game shapes up as a test of Alabama's strong defense against Penn State's productive offense, headed by Richie Lucas.

The Crimson Tide, of the Southeastern Conference, fourth best defensively this season, have allowed only 95 points in 10 games. The Nittany Lions, an Eastern independent, accumulated 255 points in their 10 games.

TCU, the co-champion of the Southwest Conference, rules an eight-point favorite to defeat Clemson, winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Some 70,000 fans are expected at Rice Stadium.

Lenoir Rhyne eliminated Southern Connecticut 47-20 and Texas A&I ousted Hillsdale (Mich.) 20-0 two weeks ago to gain the NAIA finals. Lenoir Rhyne, placing an 18-game winning streak on the line, is a slight choice. A turnout of 10,000 is expected at Al Lang Field.

CHOW HOUNDS — University of Washington football players dig in for their last Seattle supper last night before leaving by air today for Pasadena where they'll meet Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl classic. Big Welcome Set For Husky Eleven Today

PASADENA (AP)—The Washington Huskies arrive today in Rose Bowl country, a place where their football predecessors have made two "pointless" appearances.

The last time the Huskies were here, in 1944, they lost to Southern California 29-0 in a war-year contest, the only Rose Bowl game to involve two western teams. Seven years before that, the Huskies met Pittsburgh in the New Year's Day classic and lost 21-0. That gives them a total of no points against 50 for the opposition.

The Huskies, matched this time against Wisconsin—which also has been blanked here—are due to land at Long Beach late in the afternoon.

They will be ushered in caravan-style into downtown Long Beach, their training site, and tendered a formal civil welcome.

Wisconsin is due tomorrow and will set up headquarters here.

The Huskies must be well aware that the Badgers are a team with a mission, bent on evening a touchy score.

Wisconsin is the only team to lose to the West in the bowl since the Big Ten began its annual trips here in 1947. Southern California upset the Badgers, 7-0, in 1953.

FACE PROBLEM

So, it developed, did the 1937 outfit.

But what a howl of objections flared when Eckman announced Pitt. The Los Angeles metropolitan press, as has often occurred, screamed its protest. They had a case, however.

Pitt had previously been in the bowl three times. It had lost a dull 7-6 affair to Stanford in 1928 and been whacked by Southern Cal, 47-14 in 1930 and 35-0 in 1933.

No one will ever forget Pitt's arrival or the attitude of the coach, the late Dr. John Bain "Jock" Sutherland.

He was courteous, but as cold as ice. He was literally the dour Scot. He made no predictions or promises.

But when his piano-legged Panthers — notably Bobby La Rue, Frank Patrick, Bill Daddio, and to a lesser degree the great Marshall Goldberg—got through with a fine Husky team venge had been reaped.

The score was Pitt 21, Washington 0.

Athletic Shakeup Set For Cal, UCLA

BERKELEY (AP)—Direct control of athletics at the University of California and UCLA would be transferred from students to chancellors under a policy change now being formulated.

This was confirmed yesterday by a university spokesman, who said the shift had been under consideration for some time. However, he added the matter still is in the discussion stage and that there is no definite time set for formal adoption.

The Associated Students presently administers the athletic program under a $700,000 annual budget. The funds are from gate receipts, student tickets, radio and TV rights and concessions. Authority is delegated by the chancellors.

Under the policy switch, the same funds would be used but administration would be directly under the university.

The status of athletic directors Greg Engelhard of U.C. and Wilbur Johns of UCLA would be affected, but there was no official comment as to the manner.

Control of athletics directed by the universities is in line with principles adopted by the new Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, created after the demise of the Pacific Coast Conference. The AAWU is known as the Big Five.

Bears Tackle Tough Buff Five Tonight

The California Bears, riding a 19-game winning streak, get their first real test of the season tonight when the University of Colorado invades the Berkeley gym.

Thus far this season Coach Pete Newell's boys have beaten U.S. Santa Barbara, the San Francisco Dons and San Jose State. The Colorado Buffaloes have won four out of five. They handed Iowa its first loss in double overtime 76-68 last week. The Buffs' only loss was to New Mexico State.

Traveling USF plays Kansas tonight, COP goes at Wyoming and the Cal Aggies at Washington University in St. Louis. Nevada plays at Fresno State and Oregon Tech at Humboldt State.

The St. Mary's Gaels absorbed their third straight loss Thursday night as host Idaho State won 53-40. Myrl Goodwin and Homer Watkins teamed to hold Gael star Tom Meschery to 10 points. Goodwin led the scoring with 18.

Ace Tourney At Hamilton Range Tomorrow, Sunday

A hole-in-one and putting contest is slated for tomorrow and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Hamilton Air Force Base driving range.

Sponsored by the base noncommissioned officers' club, the match will have on hand Harry Lawrence, base pro, who will offer his help and instruction for the asking.

A fee of $1 for four balls has been set for the hole-in-one contest with prizes ranging from $25 in cash to golf balls.

For the putting contest, nine holes will cost $1, with prizes of cash and merchandise

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

CONNOLLY

So Willie Mays wants a raise in pay. The $80,000 S. F. Giant outfielder has confided to friends he thinks he is entitled to a hoist in his check.

Of course Willie might be 100 per cent right. He figures that if the Giants, drawing a maximum of 20,000 daily, could afford 80,000 bucks why couldn't they pick up the pay when they are now in a new park that seats 45,000?

And it ain't a bad idea.

Willie played hot and cold last year. He was hotter than a .45 one day and colder than a landlord's heart the next. But on the season's overall he was right snug up to Orlando Cepeda.

Mays draws the people into the park. He may not be as hot a darwing card in San Francisco as Giant bosses expected, but he drags 'em in on the road.

Cepeda, despite the fact that he truly is a sensational performer, never saw the day he could measure up to Willie, the "Say Hey" kid.

Mays, with a big ball park and an outfield where he can roam to his heart's content, might "arrive" in 1960. I dunno. But I think he will hit the comeback trail in a blaze of glory.

PAYING WILLIE 80,000 clams a season is a lot of money. But in return, Willie turns in a lot of spectacular baseball. He combines hitting with fielding, running and throwing. And in my book there isn't a ball player alive today who can come close to him in all-around ability.

He makes mistakes, but so seldom they are forgotten easily. I only saw him make one bad error of judgment in two years.

But baseball moguls depend on the gate attraction for the dividends.

Cepeda will never be the drawing cards of Mays. And he'll never command the salary Willie gets because he lacks the color, that indefinable word, that makes one ball player a gate attraction and the other an also ran.

MAYS IN San Francisco had to overcome two things he never dreamed of. He had to get accustomed to the wind blowing hard and away from him, and the short fences. Anytime Willie took a running chance at a line drive, Bill Rigney's heart jumped into his vest pocket.

"I could see Willie killing himself a hundred times in the last two years," Rigney recalls. "I knew he was accustomed to racing wildly for line drives and I knew the fences would not permit him to catch 'em. So all I could do was to watch and hope he didn't smack his head against the short fences."

RIGNEY feels that the larger playing field at Candlestick Park is going to be an asset to Willie.

Rig also likes to believe that more flies will be hit in Willie's direction next season than ever before in San Francisco.

"I think 1960 is going to see Willie Mays endearing himself to San Francisco fans," explains Rig. "They've never seen the real Willie in action. Seals Stadium simply cramped his style."

And that is a lot of comment from Rigney who would rather talk about anything in the off-season than his star player. It may be the Stoneham influence.

But Rig is on the dead square about Willie . . . always.

Three Bowl Classics On TV Tomorrow

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alabama (7-1-2) opposes Penn State (8-2) in the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia. Clemson (8-2) meets Texas Christian (8-2) in the Bluebonnet classic at Houston. And Lenoir Rhyne (10-0) of North Carolina plays Texas A&I (11-1) in the NAIA Holiday bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla.

CBS will telecast both the Holiday attraction, which starts at 9:30 a.m. PST and the Bluebonnet, beginning at 12:30 p.m. PST. The Liberty Bowl will be seen at 10 a.m. on NBC.

The Liberty and Bluebonnet bowls are newcomers to the post-season events. The promoters of the games, hoping for financial successes and good weather, have lined up four top teams despite keen competition from the established bowls.

TCU was the nation's seventh ranking team in the final Associated Press poll. Alabama was listed tenth, Clemson eleventh and Penn State twelfth.

LIBERTY BOWL

The Liberty bowl is expected to draw a crowd of 50,000 to Philedelphia Stadium. Both Alabama and Penn State are reported to be in fine physical shape and the game shapes up as a test of Alabama's strong defense against Penn State's productive offense, headed by Richie Lucas.

The Crimson Tide, of the Southeastern Conference, fourth best defensively this season, have allowed only 95 points in 10 games. The Nittany Lions, an Eastern independent, accumulated 255 points in their 10 games.

TCU, the co-champion of the Southwest Conference, rules an eight-point favorite to defeat Clemson, winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Some 70,000 fans are expected at Rice Stadium.

Lenoir Rhyne eliminated Southern Connecticut 47-20 and Texas A&I ousted Hillsdale (Mich.) 20-0 two weeks ago to gain the NAIA finals. Lenoir Rhyne, placing an 18-game winning streak on the line, is a slight choice. A turnout of 10,000 is expected at Al Lang Field.

CHOW HOUNDS — University of Washington football players dig in for their last Seattle supper last night before leaving by air today for Pasadena where they'll meet Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl classic. Big Welcome Set For Husky Eleven Today

PASADENA (AP)—The Washington Huskies arrive today in Rose Bowl country, a place where their football predecessors have made two "pointless" appearances.

The last time the Huskies were here, in 1944, they lost to Southern California 29-0 in a war-year contest, the only Rose Bowl game to involve two western teams. Seven years before that, the Huskies met Pittsburgh in the New Year's Day classic and lost 21-0. That gives them a total of no points against 50 for the opposition.

The Huskies, matched this time against Wisconsin—which also has been blanked here—are due to land at Long Beach late in the afternoon.

They will be ushered in caravan-style into downtown Long Beach, their training site, and tendered a formal civil welcome.

Wisconsin is due tomorrow and will set up headquarters here.

The Huskies must be well aware that the Badgers are a team with a mission, bent on evening a touchy score.

Wisconsin is the only team to lose to the West in the bowl since the Big Ten began its annual trips here in 1947. Southern California upset the Badgers, 7-0, in 1953.

Scott 5-2 Pick Over Cuban On TV Tonight

But he doesn't intend to sit idly by and wait while dust gathers on his money mitts.

So tonight, the sleek, stiff-socking Philadelphian guns for his seventh in a row in a television (NBC 7 p.m. PST) 10-rounder with middleweight Benn "Kid" Paret of Cuba at Madison Square Garden.

"Gotta keep busy and let the people hear about you," said Charley. "I may have a couple of more fights while Jordan is making up his mind."

Jordan was unexpectedly flattened in the fourth round by Frederico Thompson of Argentina in a non-title fight in Buenos Aires last week. Philadelphia promoter Herman Taylor has offered Jordan a $75,000 guarantee to risk his crown against Scott.

The champ may not have too much time to make up his mind, either. The NBA has given him until Jan. 15 to sign for a title defense.

On his record and rating, Scott deserves the shot. Unbeaten in 13 months, he has whipped, among others, Ike Logart, Ralph Dupas and Sugar Hart. He stopped Hart, then the top contender, in the ninth round last Oct. 19 and became top banana himself.

Scott was a so-so fighter until he started to put the latest streak together. He credits a new manager, Norman Henry, and the easing of home problems with making him a better fighter.

His record is 24-9, including 13 knockouts. Paret's record is 28-6-2 including eight kayos.

Paret could make it a lively show. The muscular Cuban shoots his punches in bursts of four and six at a clip. His punches look good, but lack the power Scott fires in short, devastating left-right combinations.

Scoring will be by rounds. A supplementary point system also will be used to help break draws.

Ted Admits Bosox Salary 'Only' 60 Gs

The 41-year-old home run star said the Sox paid him only $60,000. He said his income from all sources is $83,000.

The Miami Herald asked Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris about Williams' salary statement and quoted Harris as replying: "Well, I guess he knows what he was getting."

Williams said he hadn't received a 1960 contract and doubted whether injuries and age would let him play.

Williams made his statement during an appearance before Circuit Judge George Holt, in opposing an increase from $100 to $250 per month in support for his daughter.

Williams said he was willing to pay the bills of his daughter —by a wife who divorced him in 1955—but maintained the bills did not total more than the present allowance. The petition of Mrs. Doris Tridico, Williams' former wife, was taken under advisement.

Chou Invites Nehru To Discuss Border

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China proposes that he and Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India begin talks Dec. 26 aimed at settling their border dispute.

Chou, in a letter to the Indian leader, suggested the meeting be held "any place in China" or at Rangoon, Burma, and added: "If you wish to suggest any other date, I am also willing to give it consideration."

The text of the letter was broadcast today by Peiping radio.

It called on India to withdraw its armed forces from 10 places on the disputed border and accused India of an unreasonable attitude in not listening to Peiping's views.

The letter was in reply to one Nehru wrote Chou in which the Indian leader rejected Chinese Communist proposals for troop withdrawals along the Himalayan border of Tibet, and for an immediate meeting with his Peiping counterpart.

Nehru had said careful preparation should be laid before a New Delhi - Peiping summit meeting could take place.

Chou, in his latest letter, urged New Delhi's acceptance of his proposal for withdrawal of armed forces of both countries 20 kilometers (12 miles) respectively along the entire border.

Chou informed Nehru that active patrolling by Chinese forces stationed along the Chinese-Indian border had been suspended.

"Now that the Indian side has taken the same step, this is of course a happy progress in safeguarding the tranquility of the border between the two countries," Chou wrote.

CONGO ORGIES

King's Visit Touches Off Fun, Fights

STANLEYVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI)—The arrival here of King Baudouin of Belgium has touched off such an orgy of happy, drunken parties and fights between his loyal subjects and nationalists that officials today feared for the monarch's safety.

Rival groups of Africans staged drunken parties throughout the city because of Baudouin's presence.

Police moved in on the parties, whacking away with batons at drunken natives and confiscating banners with such diverse slogans as "complete independence for the Congo" and "long live the king."

The landing strip was strewn with the injured as well as drunks.

CONTROVERSIAL CLOCK

OWNERS STAND FIRM

Businessman Irked At Old Clock In Front Of His Store

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Black, who own the clock, say they just like owning it—that's all.

"That clock is just an old junker," said Carroll. He demanded it be removed because it doesn't fit in with his shiny new optical store.

"I've tried," said Carroll, "but I can't understand why he likes the clock so well. And why does it have to be on the street? Why doesn't he take it home and put it up in his back yard?"

Said Black: "Different people put values on different things."

Black, an electronics firm worker, said he and his wife bought the clock six months ago "for the simple pleasure of owning it." They paid $25 to a former jeweler, who had tried earlier to sell it to Carroll. Carroll wouldn't buy.

The board has taken the dispute under advisement.

GIs' Modern Role: Guard Missile Sites

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, the Army's infantry boss, declares an increasingly important mission for the foot soldier is protecting missile launching sites.

"As we build more and more pushbutton sites, they become more and more vulnerable to guerillas or other ground forces," said Clarke, head of the Army Continental Command.

Regents, Board Of Education Study College Master Plan

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California regents and the state Board of Education are deciding today the fate of a master plan for higher education.

Representatives of each organization reached agreement yesterday on the most significant items and now the plan goes before the full membership of both.

The plan calls for a 16-member board of trustees which would control state colleges. The colleges are now controlled by the board of education.

The plan also provides for a co-ordinating council between the control bodies, and a cooperative doctorate program whereby the state colleges would be empowered to grant some doctorate degrees.

Chou Invites Nehru To Discuss Border

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China proposes that he and Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India begin talks Dec. 26 aimed at settling their border dispute.

Chou, in a letter to the Indian leader, suggested the meeting be held "any place in China" or at Rangoon, Burma, and added: "If you wish to suggest any other date, I am also willing to give it consideration."

The text of the letter was broadcast today by Peiping radio.

It called on India to withdraw its armed forces from 10 places on the disputed border and accused India of an unreasonable attitude in not listening to Peiping's views.

The letter was in reply to one Nehru wrote Chou in which the Indian leader rejected Chinese Communist proposals for troop withdrawals along the Himalayan border of Tibet, and for an immediate meeting with his Peiping counterpart.

Nehru had said careful preparation should be laid before a New Delhi - Peiping summit meeting could take place.

Chou, in his latest letter, urged New Delhi's acceptance of his proposal for withdrawal of armed forces of both countries 20 kilometers (12 miles) respectively along the entire border.

Chou informed Nehru that active patrolling by Chinese forces stationed along the Chinese-Indian border had been suspended.

"Now that the Indian side has taken the same step, this is of course a happy progress in safeguarding the tranquility of the border between the two countries," Chou wrote.

CONGO ORGIES

King's Visit Touches Off Fun, Fights

STANLEYVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI)—The arrival here of King Baudouin of Belgium has touched off such an orgy of happy, drunken parties and fights between his loyal subjects and nationalists that officials today feared for the monarch's safety.

Rival groups of Africans staged drunken parties throughout the city because of Baudouin's presence.

Police moved in on the parties, whacking away with batons at drunken natives and confiscating banners with such diverse slogans as "complete independence for the Congo" and "long live the king."

The landing strip was strewn with the injured as well as drunks.

OWNERS STAND FIRM

Businessman Irked At Old Clock In Front Of His Store

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Black, who own the clock, say they just like owning it—that's all.

"That clock is just an old junker," said Carroll. He demanded it be removed because it doesn't fit in with his shiny new optical store.

"I've tried," said Carroll, "but I can't understand why he likes the clock so well. And why does it have to be on the street? Why doesn't he take it home and put it up in his back yard?"

Black, an electronics firm worker, said he and his wife bought the clock six months ago "for the simple pleasure of owning it." They paid $25 to a former jeweler, who had tried earlier to sell it to Carroll. Carroll wouldn't buy.

GIs' Modern Role: Guard Missile Sites

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, the Army's infantry boss, declares an increasingly important mission for the foot soldier is protecting missile launching sites.

"As we build more and more pushbutton sites, they become more and more vulnerable to guerillas or other ground forces," said Clarke, head of the Army Continental Command.

Regents, Board Of Education Study College Master Plan

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California regents and the state Board of Education are deciding today the fate of a master plan for higher education.

Representatives of each organization reached agreement yesterday on the most significant items and now the plan goes before the full membership of both.

The plan calls for a 16-member board of trustees which would control state colleges. The colleges are now controlled by the board of education.

Festive Decor Is Keynote Of Luncheon

There was a beautifully trimmed tree and the fireplace was decorated with huge red and gold candles, gold cones and holly, and tables were centered with red and white candles. Favors were candy canes.

Entertainment for the afternoon was composed of seasonal music provided by the Tamalpais High School Choir under the direction of Robert Greenwood, and a piano duet played by Jennifer and Geraldine Buckley.

Gifts were exchanged, and awards were won by Mesdames Horace Cagwin, Robert Hall, Peter Behr, Lloyd Postel and Larry Brink.

'Friendship Family Project' Now Attracting Attention In Marin

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

One of the most interesting new plans for promoting friendly relations with foreign countries is the "Friendship Family Project" that is now attracting attention in Marin County.

Launched last year by the National Committee on Friendly Relations among foreign students, the plan evolved because many students who had accepted Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner invitations felt disappointed at not being asked back.

It was felt that unless more American families take an interest in these students, many will complete their academic careers on a campus without ever having experience with the more genuine aspect of American life—the family.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry of Mill Valley and Mrs. Jacqueline Campbell co-hosted a reception and eggnog party at Mrs. Campbell's home in Kentfield for a group of these foreign students. About 50 people were invited.

CALYPSO MUSIC

During the afternoon Robert Sharpe of Jamaica, a classmate and friend of Harry Belafonte, entertained with calypso music and dancing, and Jareh Misserlian of Syria played Armenian folk dances and songs on records.

In addition to Sharpe, other students studying business administration at Golden Gate College who attended were Kenneth Morrison of Jamaica, Syed Farouk of Pakistan, Helmut Gutler of Germany and George Hyder of Singapore.

Students at the University of San Francisco were Alice and Therese Hekimian of Egypt, and those studying at San Francisco State College were Misserlian and Branko Bajic of Yugoslavia; Sarahndaz and Thawlamrezab Bonakdar of Iran, and Fuad Malouff of Lebanon.

FIRST YEAR

The friendship family project is a simple one geared only to American families showing a continuing interest in "adopting" two newly-arrived students for at least their first year in our country through contacting them in some informal way at least every seven or eight weeks.

Experience has shown that the students are grateful to have American friends early in their life here of whom they may ask questions regarding our customs and community organization. They are always eager to know if they will be asked to return after a first invitation, and if they are not, they want to know if they have done anything that would account for it.

Besides entertaining the students volunteer families take their guests on sightseeing tours, particularly those who have some special interest such as architecture, bridges, freeways or zoos, giving them ample time to use cameras.

The European or Asian student touring the United States, like the American tourist abroad, treasures the pictures which he will take home to his friends and family.

"Instead of doing them a favor," Mrs. Berry pointed out, "we are the ones who gain through acquaintance with these young people who are educated, cultured and entertaining representatives of their countries. In the future our children will probably be reading their names in the news as leaders in their home lands."

The committee on friendly relations among foreign students maintains a branch office in San Francisco at 291 Geary street, under the direction of Mrs. Charles E. Adams. Further information about the plan may be obtained from her.

A luncheon was held yesterday in Mrs. Adams' home for those participating in the plan this year. Plans are under way for the next college semester, which begins in February.

Trim Your Tree The Expert Way To Save Trouble

First, she said, put the strings on the floor and untangle them. Remove all kinks. Examine the strings for frayed cords or damaged sockets and replace if necessary. Plug each string into an outlet to check bulbs, then disconnect.

Then begin placing the strings on the tree. Start at the top and work down. Put lights on the inside boughs first and work from the trunk outward to the tips of the branches. After each string is in place, light it and stand away to size up the effect.

CHERRY RED jewels adorn this interpretation of a Manhattan cocktail. Richly bourbon-colored satin fashions the pillbox with a flirtatious forward tilt springing from the jeweled cherries.

Hamilton Officer's Wife Teaching Retarded Children Bowling Art

By PEG COADY

An Hamilton Air Force Base officer's wife, Mrs. Kenneth (Julie) Smith, is giving 14 Marin County retarded children a wonderful sense of satisfaction and accomplishment.

Each Monday afternoon Mrs. Smith and the children meet at Greenbrae Lanes, Greenbrae, to bowl. To see the pins falling is a bright spark in the lives of these children who range in age from eight to 14. Their parents are all members of MARC—Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

One mother said, "They have so little sense of accomplishment in their lives that bowling is doing wonders for them. We are all so grateful to Julie."

Mrs. Smith and her husband, Captain Smith, who is with the 4650th Combat Support Squadron at Hamilton, came to Hamilton a short time ago from Cambria Air Force Station near Carmel. She read of MARC in the newspapers and contacted its president, Mrs. Marvin Good, wife of Major Good, also of Hamilton, to volunteer to teach MARC children to bowl.

ARRANGEMENTS

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Smith with Thomas R. Coates, general manager of Greenbrae Lanes for the use of three lanes and the assistance of two instructors.

Mrs. Smith's gentle persuasion and praise ("Now we will learn to take the proper steps," and, always after a try—"That's fine") is giving these children an opportunity to develop muscle coordination as well as an I-did-it feeling so important to them.

Mrs. Smith has been a certified instructor for five years under the auspices of the American Junior Bowling Congress. She has attended two schools of bowling instruction: the second as a teacher of teachers.

Experience with normal as well as retarded children? Here too, she qualifies. While stationed in Southern California, she taught children to bowl in the San Bernardino area, having 200 steady bowlers, aged eight to 12. Also at that time she had 16 bowling teams of young people from 16 to 18 years of age. Among all these bowlers, 10 were discovered to be retarded.

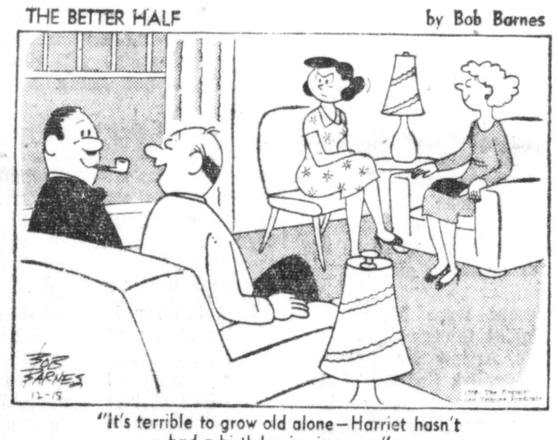

Wherever Captain and Mrs. Smith have been stationed while in the Air Force that area has benefited by her contribution and service to the children.

"It does take a lot of patience and love," explains Mrs. Smith, "to work with the retarded child, but I feel good inside doing it—especially if I have made progress. I get a great deal of pleasure even if I can help only one child out of 10, 20 or 100."

Nation Of Perkers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sixty per cent of America's coffee-drinking families brew the beverage in a percolator, says the Pan-American Coffee Bureau. The first percolator was made in 1800, eight centuries after the discovery of coffee as a beverage. Its inventor was a Frenchman, Jean Baptiste Del Belloy, whose design worked more like today's drip pot than a percolator. It filtered boiled water through ground coffee held in suspension by a perforated metal or porcelain grid.

Snap On Beads Are Now Put To New Use

CHICAGO (UPI) — Beads that snap onto one another have been put to a new use — to form pictures, tapestries and even room dividers or draperies.

The product called Busybeads comes in boxes containing beads, rod and pattern to form a picture, or separately in packages of 500 or 1,000 in any of 15 colors.

The package-and-pattern sets are easy to follow, and promise good rainy day diversion for children. There are 23 subjects, ranging from an 8¼ by 14-inch owl, peering through big white eyes, to an 18½ by 24-inch impressionistic young girl. Included are a number of little animals and nursery characters.

Sold separately, they are not cheap. A package of 1,000, which makes about one square foot, costs around $5.

Trim Your Tree The Expert Way To Save Trouble

So says Myrtle Fahsbender, home lighting director for a manufacturer of electrical and heavy industry equipment.

First, she said, put the strings on the floor and untangle them. Remove all kinks. Examine the strings for frayed cords or damaged sockets and replace if necessary. Plug each string into an outlet to check bulbs, then disconnect.

Then begin placing the strings on the tree. Start at the top and work down. Put lights on the inside boughs first and work from the trunk outward to the tips of the branches. After each string is in place, light it and stand away to size up the effect.

After all strings are arranged to your liking, disconnect the lights and hang ornaments. With ornaments, work from the top down.

CHRISTMAS NUPTIAL RITES

On the afternoon of Christmas Day Mrs. Shirley Robinson will become the bride of John O. Brown of Sausalito, formerly of Washington state. The 2 o'clock ceremony will take place at the Congregational Church in San Rafael and the reception following will also be there. The couple will reside at 49 Berens drive, Kentfield.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Strickler of San Rafael. The future benedict is an electronics technician.

Volunteer Service Women Entertain For Senior Club

The usual number making up 10 tables for the dessert luncheon and card party attended the annual event given under the direction of the Mill Valley UVS unit president Mrs. Frederick Fellows.

The buffet table was decorated with a unique Christmas tree and candle holders made of bronze sprayed teasel burrs highlighted with tiny vari-colored Christmas balls, and a specially made cake was adorned with Christmas motifs.

Mrs. Elsie Hussey, Senior Club chairman, assisted with the distribution of gifts.

Working with Mrs. Fellows on the committee were Mesdames William Gande, Archer Forsyth, Charles Campomenosi, Mary Bogan, Wayne Bingham and Carna Peterson.

Members of both the UVS and the Senior Club joined in baking cookies and providing candy for the party to be given Saturday afternoon for 90 children of enlisted men stationed at the 66th Air Patrol and Warning Squadron

In addition to sponsoring the Senior Club and their Christmas activities in connection with the Mt. Tamalpais station, UVS members go to Ft. Baker the first Thursday afternoon of each month and on call to do mending and perform other services for the men.

At their last "stitch, chat and chew" session they wrapped more than 100 Christmas gifts for the boys. Many more volunteers could be used in this work, according to Mrs. Fellows.

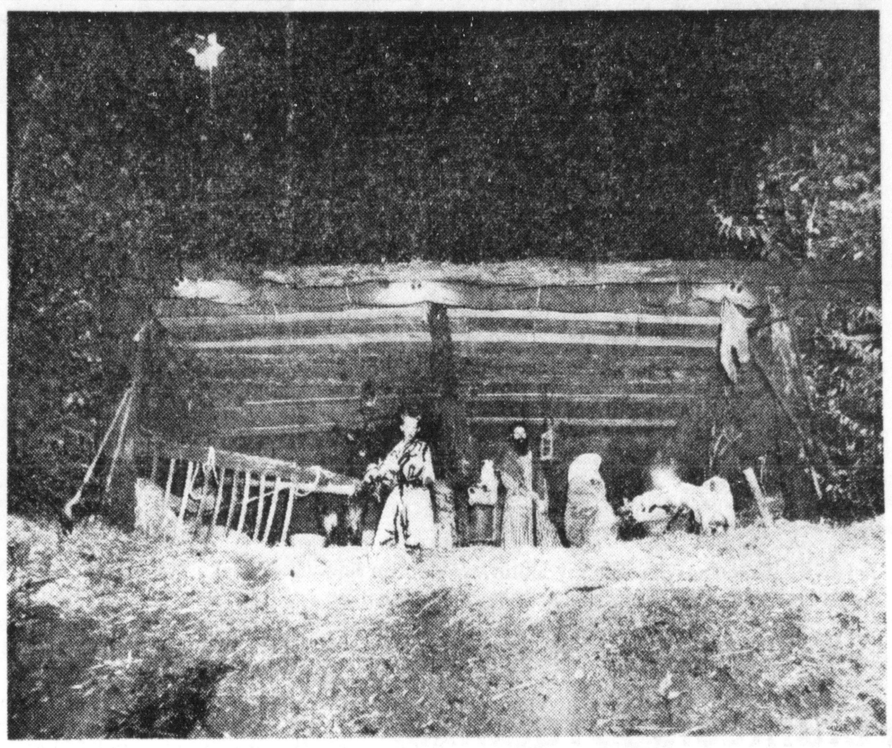

All senior citizens in the county are welcome to attend the meetings of the Senior Club on the second Tuesday of the month at 1 p.m. in the Mill Valley American Legion Hall.

New "pocketeer" skirts, designed by Merry Mites and Gay Sprites, "grow" with the child. The skirts have pockets which can be let out by means of buttons as the child widens. Suspenders with buttons placed at intervals allow for vertical growth. Matching tops also can be lengthened.

Soapy Artists

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new game enables pre-school children to "paint" with soapsuds. The kit contains a bag of soap, egg beater, coloring and wooden spatulas. The consistency of the suds depends on the amount of water — more for paint-like mixture, less for a harder, clay-like substance.

Davidson Lists Benefits, Dangers Of I.Q. Tests

Dangers and benefits of I.Q. tests were explained to members of the Marin Terrace P-TA at their recent meeting by psychologist Robert Davidson, guidance counselor for the Mill Valley and Reed School Districts.

Public schools are making intelligence test manufacturers rich, he said, and widespread tests of this kind are not an unmixed blessing.

Dangers he listed were: (1) That the tester can assume too much — that the child is well, has had a good night's sleep and is comfortable; that light is good; and that there are no outside distractions.

(2) That such tests can be unfair to a child when they are used as a basis for major decisions other than as the "best single predictor" of academic success if he is sent to college.

(3) That neuroses can be caused when a child with average I.Q. (score of 90 to 110) is pushed too much to get through college, at the cost of his health and well being, when he might have been a more productive and useful member of society in another field.

(4) That emotional ego of parents can result in misunderstanding the meaning of the tests, or, as in the case of the highly intelligent parent, that he will not accept the fact that his child may not be of only average intelligence.

On the positive side, Davidson pointed out that in addition to being the best predictor of academic success, the tests help school administrators to plan the school curriculum so that teaching won't be beneath or too much above the children.

Volunteer Service Women Entertain For Senior Club

The usual number making up 10 tables for the dessert luncheon and card party attended the annual event given under the direction of the Mill Valley UVS unit president Mrs. Frederick Fellows.

The buffet table was decorated with a unique Christmas tree and candle holders made of bronze sprayed teasel burrs highlighted with tiny vari-colored Christmas balls, and a specially made cake was adorned with Christmas motifs.

Mrs. Elsie Hussey, Senior Club chairman, assisted with the distribution of gifts.

Working with Mrs. Fellows on the committee were Mesdames William Gande, Archer Forsyth, Charles Campomenosi, Mary Bogan, Wayne Bingham and Carna Peterson.

Members of both the UVS and the Senior Club joined in baking cookies and providing candy for the party to be given Saturday afternoon for 90 children of enlisted men stationed at the 66th Air Patrol and Warning Squadron

In addition to sponsoring the Senior Club and their Christmas activities in connection with the Mt. Tamalpais station, UVS members go to Ft. Baker the first Thursday afternoon of each month and on call to do mending and perform other services for the men.

At their last "stitch, chat and chew" session they wrapped more than 100 Christmas gifts for the boys. Many more volunteers could be used in this work, according to Mrs. Fellows.

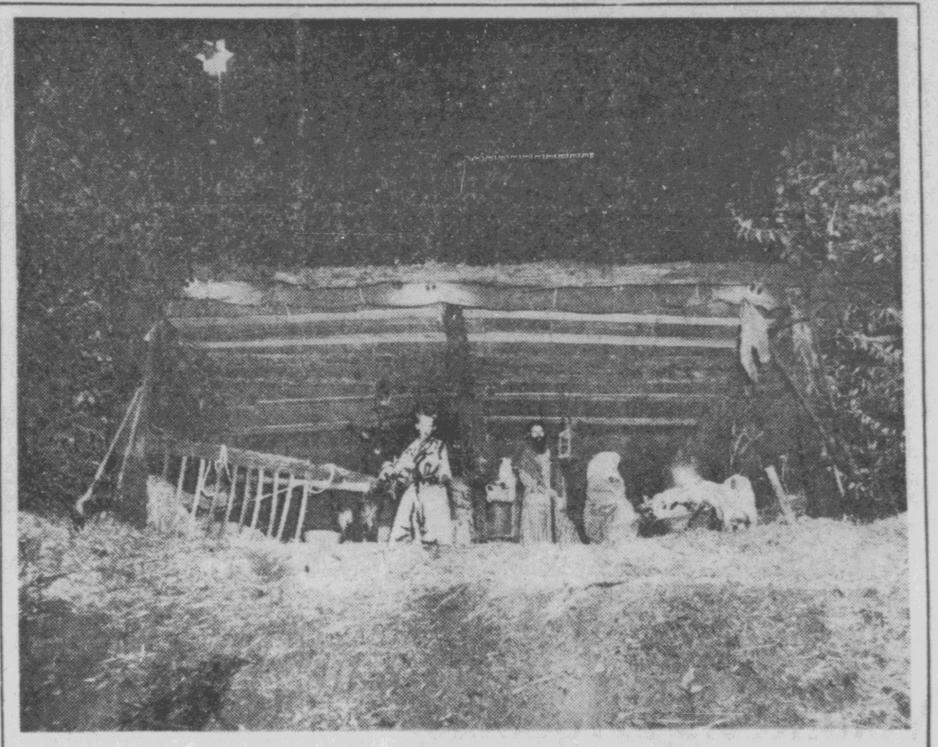

All senior citizens in the county are welcome to attend the meetings of the Senior Club on the second Tuesday of the month at 1 p.m. in the Mill Valley American Legion Hall.

Pocketeer Skirts

New "pocketeer" skirts, designed by Merry Mites and Gay Sprites, "grow" with the child. The skirts have pockets which can be let out by means of buttons as the child widens. Suspenders with buttons placed at intervals allow for vertical growth. Matching tops also can be lengthened.

Soapy Artists

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new game enables pre-school children to "paint" with soapsuds. The kit contains a bag of soap, egg beater, coloring and wooden spatulas. The consistency of the suds depends on the amount of water — more for paint-like mixture, less for a harder, clay-like substance.

Davidson Lists Benefits, Dangers Of I.Q. Tests

Dangers and benefits of I.Q. tests were explained to members of the Marin Terrace P-TA at their recent meeting by psychologist Robert Davidson, guidance counselor for the Mill Valley and Reed School Districts.

Public schools are making intelligence test manufacturers rich, he said, and widespread tests of this kind are not an unmixed blessing.

Dangers he listed were: (1) That the tester can assume too much — that the child is well, has had a good night's sleep and is comfortable; that light is good; and that there are no outside distractions.

(2) That such tests can be unfair to a child when they are used as a basis for major decisions other than as the "best single predictor" of academic success if he is sent to college.

(3) That neuroses can be caused when a child with average I.Q. (score of 90 to 110) is pushed too much to get through college, at the cost of his health and well being, when he might have been a more productive and useful member of society in another field.

(4) That emotional ego of parents can result in misunderstanding the meaning of the tests, or, as in the case of the highly intelligent parent, that he will not accept the fact that his child may not be of only average intelligence.

On the positive side, Davidson pointed out that in addition to being the best predictor of academic success, the tests help school administrators to plan the school curriculum so that teaching won't be beneath or too much above the children.

Volunteers Organize, Staff School Library

Sleepy Hollow School in the San Anselmo School District has a library for the first time this year, staffed by volunteers and housing some 550 books.

Set up in a vacant classroom, the library is open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays from noon to 2 p.m. and is attracting large numbers of students.

For many youngsters, the library has opened a new world of experiences, reports Mrs. Lyman B. McBride, chairman of the project.

Of the 550 books on the shelves, 75 were donated by parents, and the library is hoping for more contributions, especially biographies, sports stories, mysteries and technical books on electricity, art, radio, and television. Education standards for a "good library call for four to five books per pupil.

Opening of a central library has "greatly increased the educational opportunities for upper grade children at Sleepy Hollow," principal Robert C. Johnston reported.

The library was an outgrowth of the Sleepy Hollow rapid learner committee organized a year ago by Mrs. Paul Talbot Jr. Mrs. McBride and a staff of volunteers worked throughout the year and during the summer to ready the library and books. Twelve volunteers now staff the room.

Mrs. McBride, wife of a county board of education member, is currently typing 2,000 cross-reference cards for the books.

Some 150 books are in constant circulation, on the average. Grades four to eight also visit the library as a class once a week.

The library seats 16, and for some it's a tight squeeze, since the only surplus furniture available was kindergarten, first and second grade tables and chairs.

Books for the library were paid for out of the regular school budget. The District spent about $100 for shelves.

Hidden Valley School plans a mobile library after Jan. 1. Since there is no extra room in the school, the Parents Club has supplied materials for four shelf-carts and John Wisnom has volunteered to build them. Mrs. Laurence Scott is charge of the project.

Officials Warn On Insufficient Postage On Cards

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you mailed holiday greetings to friends in Canada or Mexico in an unsealed envelope bearing only a three-cent stamp, you'd better get another card on the way with four cents postage.

The Post Office Department said today thousands of cards headed for Canada and Mexico in the unsealed envelopes with three-cent postage and no return address are being dumped into incinerators.

It explained that the three-cent rate on unsealed envelopes is possible in the United States because of a third-class mail rate.

But, it said, there is no provision for such third-class ratings in Canada and Mexico.

DAR Selects 5 Girls For Citizenship Award

Five Marin County high school girls seniors have been selected by the Daughters of the American Revolution to receive the good citizenship award.

The honors, given on the basis of "outstanding dependability, service, leadership and patriotism," are to be presented Feb. 15 at a meeting of El Marinero Chapter of the DAR in Greenbrae.

Nancy Aunapu, 17, daughter of Mrs. H. W. Aunapu of 93 Lomita drive, Mill Valley, was chosen from Tamalpais High School.

She is president of the Girls' Athletic Assn., on the executive board of the Student Council, a priestess of the Honor T group, and vice president of Pi Alpha Tau. She is program area chairman for the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Sandra Boyer, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyer of 49 Mohawk avenue, Corte Madera, was the honor winner from Redwood High School.

Sandra is a member of the Redwood Honor Society, co-chairman of the Girls' Self-Government Committee, editor-in-chief of the Bark, Redwood newspaper, and president of Phi Lambda Sigma, the honor foreign language society.

Last summer she went to Germany as an American Field Service exchange student.

Winner of the honor at Tomales High is Judy Brewster, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brewster of Inverness.

Norma Jean Fong, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fong of 61A Broadway, Fairfax, was selected at Sir Francis Drake.

At San Rafael High, Louise McFarlane, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. McFarlane of 216 Knight drive, San Rafael, was chosen.

She is activity point secretary of the Student Council, a member of the Scholarship Society, a big sister in the Girls' League. Louise is a member of the Ra Ravas, on the school committee of student finance, the dance committee and the Girls' Athletic Assn.

The girls are eligible to compete for a district award, a $25 bond, by taking a state contest in history and civics and filling out an activity chart. District winners then may write an essay on citizenship, the state winner's papers being sent to Washington. This winner will be a recipient of $100 from the national society.

Fairchild Firm Moving Equipment Into Plant

Equipment for manufacture of diodes is now being moved into Fairchild Semiconductor Corp.'s recently leased pilot plant at 27 Jordan street to start a training line, according to Robert E. Freund, manager of the new plant.

By Monday morning, Freund said today, enough such equipment will have been brought up from the corporations plants in Mountain View and Palo Alto to get under way and by the end of next week about 10 trainees should be learning their jobs.

Initially the equipment is being set up in the new quarters and "de-bugged" to put it in proper operating order, according to Freund.

He estimated that preliminary production should get under way in January, with about 25 employees in the plant by the end of this month. Approximately one-quarter of these will be transfers from Mountain View and the others locally hired, Freund said.

By the end of June the total of employees in the pilot plant should have risen to 150 and at that time about 90 per cent will have been hired in Marin County, according to the manager. This operation has 7,000 square feet of working space.

Meanwhile work will have been under way on construction of the main three-million-dollar plant on 10 acres in northern San Rafael, opposite Terra Linda. The initial building there will be 50,000 square feet in size, so constructed as to allow for probable expansion, and it is hoped that this plant can be open and operating by June.

Women will work as assemblers as well as in office capacities, Freund said, but there will be plenty of men in such posts as executives, machinists, electronics technicians, draftsmen and engineers.

Diodes, which the Marin County plants are to make, were defined by Freund as small semi-conductors employed in computer switch circuits and rectifier circuits.

Semi-conductors don't carry electricity readily as do the metallic elements classed as conductors, nor do they block it like the nonconductors, but by controlled conductance they provide electrical valves. Both silicon and germanium are among the semiconductors and Fairchild uses silicon which in its impure natural form is the second most abundant material on earth, according to Fairchild pamphlets.

West Marin Men Adjudged Guilty

Two West Marin men have been found guilty by Judge David R. Baty in Northwest Marin Judicial District court on charges of maliciously damaging a half-mile stretch of logging road with a bulldozer and carryall on Nov. 14 on the Lake Ranch between Bolinas and Olema.

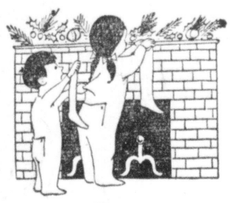

Dale Moore of Bolinas and Billy Jean Gravette of Olema will be sentenced Dec. 30.

Both men are employed by Sweet Timber Co. of Olema and the bulldozer and carryall are the property of that firm. The equipment received some $550 worth of damage. According to testimony, the men left it with three flat tires and a ruined hydraulic system.

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

Sometimes you can find out the darndest things by reading the papers. Just the other day, came news from Washington that the Defense Department has announced the discovery of the first known Antarctic insect life. They identified their find as snow fleas, cute little wingless things about an eighth of an inch long. Of course, a really great discovery for the Defense Department to make would be to find a place where there were no fleas at all. That would really be something. Anyway, I'll bet all those penguins and sled dogs knew about this whole thing a long time ago, and they have hardly any defense budget at all.

From Margate, Eng., comes a report of "a sea monster with ears like a horse." Maybe it was just a nightmare.

Fairchild Firm Moving Equipment Into Plant

Equipment for manufacture of diodes is now being moved into Fairchild Semiconductor Corp.'s recently leased pilot plant at 27 Jordan street to start a training line, according to Robert E. Freund, manager of the new plant.

By Monday morning, Freund said today, enough such equipment will have been brought up from the corporations plants in Mountain View and Palo Alto to get under way and by the end of next week about 10 trainees should be learning their jobs.

Initially the equipment is being set up in the new quarters and "de-bugged" to put it in proper operating order, according to Freund.

He estimated that preliminary production should get under way in January, with about 25 employees in the plant by the end of this month. Approximately one-quarter of these will be transfers from Mountain View and the others locally hired, Freund said.

By the end of June the total of employees in the pilot plant should have risen to 150 and at that time about 90 per cent will have been hired in Marin County, according to the manager. This operation has 7,000 square feet of working space.

Meanwhile work will have been under way on construction of the main three-million-dollar plant on 10 acres in northern San Rafael, opposite Terra Linda. The initial building there will be 50,000 square feet in size, so constructed as to allow for probable expansion, and it is hoped that this plant can be open and operating by June.

Women will work as assemblers as well as in office capacities, Freund said, but there will be plenty of men in such posts as executives, machinists, electronics technicians, draftsmen and engineers.

Diodes, which the Marin County plants are to make, were defined by Freund as small semi-conductors employed in computer switch circuits and rectifier circuits.

Semi-conductors don't carry electricity readily as do the metallic elements classed as conductors, nor do they block it like the nonconductors, but by controlled conductance they provide electrical valves. Both silicon and germanium are among the semiconductors and Fairchild uses silicon which in its impure natural form is the second most abundant material on earth, according to Fairchild pamphlets.

West Marin Men Adjudged Guilty

Two West Marin men have been found guilty by Judge David R. Baty in Northwest Marin Judicial District court on charges of maliciously damaging a half-mile stretch of logging road with a bulldozer and carryall on Nov. 14 on the Lake Ranch between Bolinas and Olema.

Dale Moore of Bolinas and Billy Jean Gravette of Olema will be sentenced Dec. 30.

Both men are employed by Sweet Timber Co. of Olema and the bulldozer and carryall are the property of that firm. The equipment received some $550 worth of damage. According to testimony, the men left it with three flat tires and a ruined hydraulic system.

NEWS VIEWS

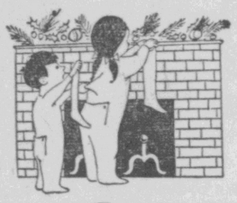

By LEON C. SMITH

Sometimes you can find out the darndest things by reading the papers. Just the other day, came news from Washington that the Defense Department has announced the discovery of the first known Antarctic insect life. They identified their find as snow fleas, cute little wingless things about an eighth of an inch long. Of course, a really great discovery for the Defense Department to make would be to find a place where there were no fleas at all. That would really be something. Anyway, I'll bet all those penguins and sled dogs knew about this whole thing a long time ago, and they have hardly any defense budget at all.

From Margate, Eng., comes a report of "a sea monster with ears like a horse." Maybe it was just a nightmare.

A dream of a used car can be yours at the J. E. French Co. Heavy sales of new Plymouths and Dodges have resulted in an abundance of extra clean late model trade-ins. Our mechanics have put these cars in top condition. We've priced them low. If you want a real used car bargain come in and test drive the car of your choice. J. E. A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK—A large portion of the credit for the steady growth and improvement of Marin County's free library system must go to the hard-working, dedicated librarian, Mrs. Virginia Vail Keating. And now she is about to see a dream come true. Soon she and her staff will be moving their books into new quarters at the Civic Center. And then she will have further opportunity to expand and improve services to Marin's huge reading public. Independent-Journal reporter Patricia Zinn writes about Mrs. Keating, her background, her accomplishments, her work, and her hopes, in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

5,000th Boy Enters Marin Scout Council

A 16-year-old Redwood High School sophomore has become the 5,000th boy to enroll with the Marin Boy Scout Council this year, bringing the total membership to a record high.

Steven Curd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Curd of 148 Stetson avenue, Corte Madera, a Life Scout, became the 5,000th member of the council when he transferred to Explorer Post 11 from a post at Travis Air Force Base.

Steven is an enthusiastic Scout, having started as a Cub Scout when he was 8 years old. "There is nothing he loves as much as he loves Scouting," confided his mother.

His father is a construction engineer with the regional office of the Post Office Department in San Francisco. The family, which includes four other children — Warren, 13, David, 8, Cynthia, 5, and John, 3—moved to Marin from Travis in July.

The council's membership has reached a new high this year, said Storrs Smith, executive for the Marin council. The previous record was reached in 1957, he said, when the total — including Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers—exceeded 4,600.

Tam Trustees To Get Jury's Critical Report

Tamalpais Union High School district trustees Monday night will receive copies of a Marin County Grand Jury report censuring district officials for "propagandizing" students during a school tax election campaign.

The report, released last week, also criticized the use of school equipment for preparing literature urging a "Yes" vote on the tax measure.

Trustees also will hear a report by Harold M. Engle, the district's structural engineer, on the cost of improving a 32-acre school site the district is purchasing in Marin City.

Vincent Maggiora and Son, Inc., Sausalito construction firm, will ask that the Lucky Drive approach to Redwood High School be closed to traffic for about one month while a drainage structure is being built for the Lucky Drive Assessment District.

After the regular meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., in the district office, trustees will meet informally with the district curriculum council on a proposal for reorganization of the school day.

HOLD THAT TOWER!

Italy's famed Leaning Tower of Pisa, whose defiance of the laws of gravity has been keeping the world in suspense for nearly 800 years, may really be in trouble.

For most of the last 50 years experts have been giving the 179-foot tower another 300 years before falling, but now, some maintain, it will topple before the year 2000. Their reason: the rate of incline has been increased at an alarming rate in the past few years. In 1958, the rate had increased to .046 inches as compared to an average .027 in the years before.

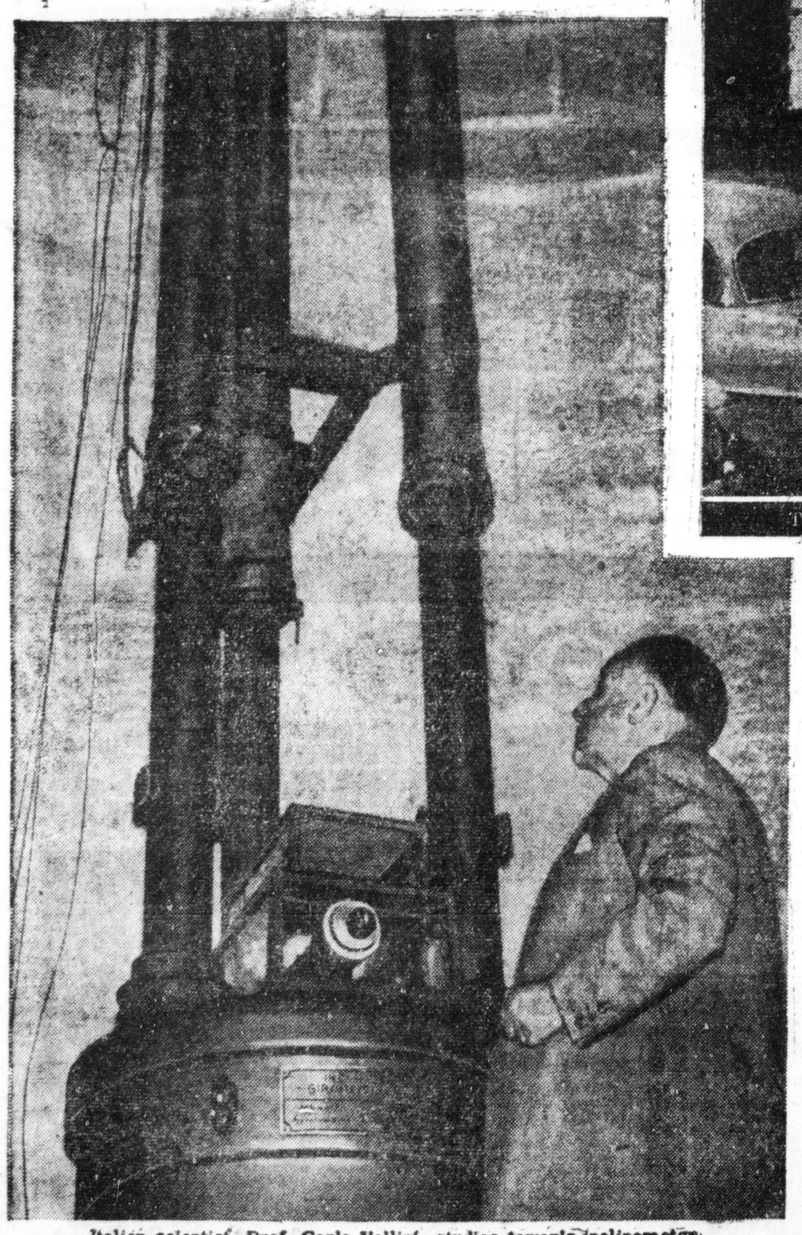

To keep its incline stable, the tower since 1907 has been given periodic concrete injections around its base, but they haven't appeared to help much. Prof. Giovanni Boaga, Rome scientist, has the support of many who claim the only solution is to dismantle the tower, sink a concrete slab about 40 feet deep and rebuild the tower over it. But the tower would be rebuilt with a modest lean, otherwise it would lose its attraction. And attract it does. Each year some 200,000 tourists admire it.

Construction of the tower began in 1174. It was completed in 1350. The ground beneath the tower started to sink after the first three stories were built. The tower began to lean, and kept on leaning until it was 16½ feet out of line. It has tipped one foot during the last 100 years alone.

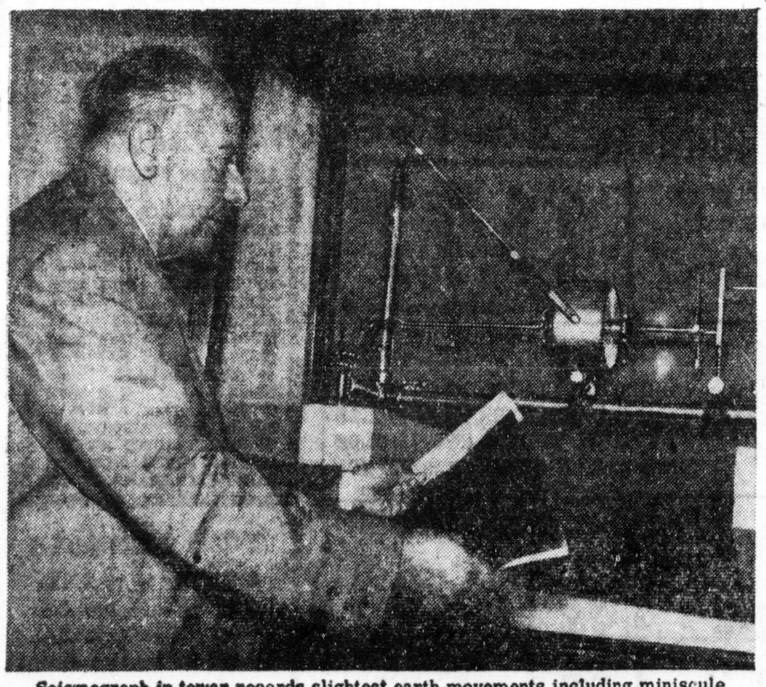

Now scientists study the tower anxiously while tourists, quite unaware of what is happening, climb the winding stairs for a breathtaking view of the city of Pisa below.

Constant settling at an angle creates cracks in structure. Patching is done as soon as cracks are observed.

Girls Need Special Care As They Approach Their Teen-Age Phase

Should pre-teeners be taught to dance? Should boys of 11 or 12 be forced to go to parties? How much freedom should children have? Let's look at our pre-teeners today.

Many girls of 11 or 12 are in their adolescence. They grow up faster than the boys. A few at 9 or 10 are like teen-agers, physically. They're ready for boy friends. They fall in love. Usually the pick the worst little hoodlums in the neighborhood and pursue them. Sometimes they have desperate crushes on teachers.

Boys of 11 or 12 are growing fast, but they aren't usually interested in girls. Their gangs occupy their time. They may not like mixed parties. Usually it is a mistake to force them to go. They're happy in their masculine world.

Even so, pre-teeners need to learn how to get along with the opposite sex. They need to associate. Church affairs, school gatherings and voluntary parties are fine.

In some places the boys are more cooperative. I know several elementary schools in which parents sponsor dancing lessons. In many other schools similar lessons have failed. The boys wouldn't go.

Most pre-teeners enjoy being with their parents. They like trips to basketball games or to movies. They have fun on family vacations. They want to talk with their folks about their problems.

Do you have children of 11 or 12? Then enjoy your days with them. Listen to their questions. Answer them carefully. Try not to be too bossy. Give them as much freedom as they can handle safely.

They are wonderful kids.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Dec. 18, the 352nd day of the year, with 13 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

In 1865, slavery was abolished in the United States by the adoption of the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution.

In 1936, the first giant panda to be imported into the U. S. arrived at San Francisco from China.

Biggest Producer

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois produces about 54 per cent of the fluorspar mined in the United States. The mineral is a raw material for hydrofluoric acid, used to make frosted glass.

Hot Story

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Phoenix Gazette reporter Lloyd Clark covered a meeting of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce during which a discussion was held on how to attract summer visitors.

Several times speakers mentioned that the heat wasn't nearly as bad as some folks claimed.

Clark left the meeting, walked into the 107 degree temperature and collapsed of heat exhaustion.

He recovered in time to write his story.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

THINGS ARE GOING TO THE DOGS

Bayhorne Adam, a blue Persian cat, took French leave from a London cat show, but his plans were scotched by show officials who recaptured him and talked to him like a Dutch uncle. Expression of Adam after capture clearly indicates something's rotten in Denmark. (AP Wirephoto)

Punny Advertising Slogans Seen Everywhere In Britain These Days

LONDON (UPI) — A pun, as everyone knows, is the lowest form of humor. In Britain, it is also one of the highest forms of advertising.

Britain is studded with advertising slogans using play on words and puns which could generously be described only as atrocious.

Some are already familiar in the United States. The ex-Naval type in the big brown beard has for years been extolling Schweppervescence" in U.S. newspaper and magazine ads and has been campaigning for Americans to "take the necessary Schweppes" to combat thirst.

But it is in Britain itself that the punny business reaches the heights — or is it the depths? A few of the more horrible examples:

—Smedley's Frozen Foods brazenly claims in signs on its distributing trucks that they peddle "The Best Food You Ever Thaw."

—the Flowers Brewing Company exhorts nature-lovers throughout England to "Pick Flowers."

—The Younger Brewing Company has retaliated by urging consumers to "Get a Little Younger Every Day."

—Wallace Heaton Ltd. sells cameras and processes snapshot as well. Its ads boast without a hint of apology, "Our Business Is Still Developing—And Printing."

What has raised the lowly pun to the dignity of high-powered advertising in Britain is difficult to say. The country is not particularly pun-struck, except perhaps in that peculiar entertainment phenomenon known as British farce.

But as any London visitor can testify, puns sprout on the looming crimson cliffs of bus sides with a frequency—and at a level—which can be excruciating to a lover of English as she should be spoke.

Guinness for years featured in its ads a contented nest of toucans, the big-beaked South American birds whose connection with stout is tenuous at best. Its shameless slogan: "See What One Or Toucan Do."

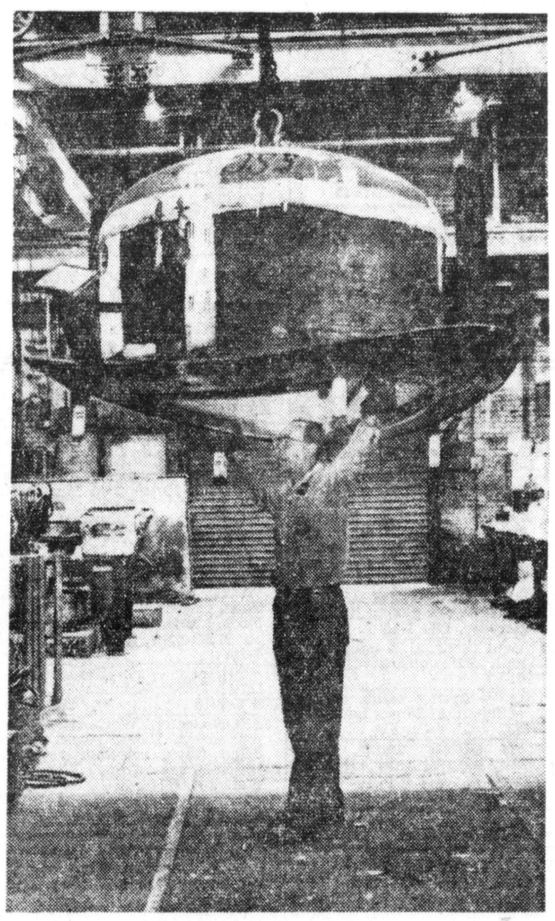

A popular brand of beer in southern England is Courage. Its makers relentlessly exploit every opportunity to exhort the drinker of low resistance to "Take Courage."

Watney-Mann Brewing Company descends to brawny arms and well-muscled Mr. Universes to emphasize that it sells "a Mann's Beer."

How all this jibes with the tradition (a wildly inaccurate one, by the way) that the British have a dry, wry sense of humor, if any at all, is again difficult to say.

But sense of humor or no, industry after industry, from cigarettes to cars to candy bars, is close behind the beer people in the flagrant production of puns that pay.

SEVEN-TON DERBY

A workman at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. in Groton, Conn., appears to be trying on an oversized derby, but the "hat" is actually the access hatch for the nuclear submarine Tullibee now under construction there. The Tullibee will be the nation's killer or attack sub. It would take a strong head to wear the "derby," which weighs seven tons. (AP Wirephoto)

PAIR JAILED; CALLED SANTA NASTY NAME

Strawberry Children Entertain Parents

Secretaries of the seminary sponsored a tea party at the executive suite yesterday for all seminary employees. A faculty and staff family Christmas party is scheduled Tuesday in Conner Hall.

Mill Valley Man Commands Flotilla

Forest Sur of 210 Cleveland avenue, Mill Valley, was installed commander of U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14, at a dinner held at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere.

Flotilla 14 is now having a recruiting drive for new members, said Manning.

Military Scholarships

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Needy students of military engineering can qualify for a University of Illinois scholarship established in the will of a man from Maine.

The late Leigh F. J. Zerbee of Paris, Maine, a 1911 Illinois graduate, left securities worth about $40,000 to provide income for the scholarship of needy civil engineering students who also specialize in military sicence.

Girls Need Special Care As They Approach Their Teen-Age Phase

Should pre-teeners be taught to dance? Should boys of 11 or 12 be forced to go to parties? How much freedom should children have? Let's look at our pre-teeners today.

Many girls of 11 or 12 are in their adolescence. They grow up faster than the boys. A few at 9 or 10 are like teen-agers, physically. They're ready for boy friends. They fall in love. Usually the pick the worst little hoodlums in the neighborhood and pursue them. Sometimes they have desperate crushes on teachers.

Boys of 11 or 12 are growing fast, but they aren't usually interested in girls. Their gangs occupy their time. They may not like mixed parties. Usually it is a mistake to force them to go. They're happy in their masculine world.

Even so, pre-teeners need to learn how to get along with the opposite sex. They need to associate. Church affairs, school gatherings and voluntary parties are fine.

In some places the boys are more cooperative. I know several elementary schools in which parents sponsor dancing lessons. In many other schools similar lessons have failed. The boys wouldn't go.

Most pre-teeners enjoy being with their parents. They like trips to basketball games or to movies. They have fun on family vacations. They want to talk with their folks about their problems.

Do you have children of 11 or 12? Then enjoy your days with them. Listen to their questions. Answer them carefully. Try not to be too bossy. Give them as much freedom as they can handle safely.

They are wonderful kids.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Punny Advertising Slogans Seen Everywhere In Britain These Days

LONDON (UPI) — A pun, as everyone knows, is the lowest form of humor. In Britain, it is also one of the highest forms of advertising.

Britain is studded with advertising slogans using play on words and puns which could generously be described only as atrocious.

Some are already familiar in the United States. The ex-Naval type in the big brown beard has for years been extolling Schweppervescence" in U.S. newspaper and magazine ads and has been campaigning for Americans to "take the necessary Schweppes" to combat thirst.

But it is in Britain itself that the punny business reaches the heights — or is it the depths? A few of the more horrible examples:

—Smedley's Frozen Foods brazenly claims in signs on its distributing trucks that they peddle "The Best Food You Ever Thaw."

—the Flowers Brewing Company exhorts nature-lovers throughout England to "Pick Flowers."

—Wallace Heaton Ltd. sells cameras and processes snapshot as well. Its ads boast without a hint of apology, "Our Business Is Still Developing—And Printing."

What has raised the lowly pun to the dignity of high-powered advertising in Britain is difficult to say. The country is not particularly pun-struck, except perhaps in that peculiar entertainment phenomenon known as British farce.

But as any London visitor can testify, puns sprout on the looming crimson cliffs of bus sides with a frequency—and at a level—which can be excruciating to a lover of English as she should be spoke.

Beer companies, for some intoxicating reason, seem to be the worst offenders.

Guinness for years featured in its ads a contented nest of toucans, the big-beaked South American birds whose connection with stout is tenuous at best. Its shameless slogan: "See What One Or Toucan Do."

A popular brand of beer in southern England is Courage. Its makers relentlessly exploit every opportunity to exhort the drinker of low resistance to "Take Courage."

Popularizers of Fremlin's Elephant Ale, despairing of a pun about Pachyderms, show a sly tippler leading an elephant with a snoutful over the slogan, "Take Home an Elephant Tonight."

Watney-Mann Brewing Company descends to brawny arms and well-muscled Mr. Universes to emphasize that it sells "a Mann's Beer."

How all this jibes with the tradition (a wildly inaccurate one, by the way) that the British have a dry, wry sense of humor, if any at all, is again difficult to say.

But sense of humor or no, industry after industry, from cigarettes to cars to candy bars, is close behind the beer people in the flagrant production of puns that pay.

SEVEN-TON DERBY

A workman at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. in Groton, Conn., appears to be trying on an oversized derby, but the "hat" is actually the access hatch for the nuclear submarine Tullibee now under construction there. The Tullibee will be the nation's killer or attack sub. It would take a strong head to wear the "derby," which weighs seven tons. (AP Wirephoto)

This landed two Pontiac area construction workers in jail.

THE MOST WONDERFUL CHRISTMAS FOR MEN WITH $5 AND A PROBLEM

Suggestion: Take that $5 to your Singer Sewing Center and leave it there . . . as a layaway deposit on a sparkling new Singer. We'll help you decide the right model and the right terms. Our prices start with the new Spartan at $59.50. Terms run to 30 months—so the most wonderful Christmas ever for her can be the most painless ever for you!

(Confidentially, she'll save more doing her own sewing than you'll be putting up for the machine.) She doesn't sew? Think nothing of it — with most models she gets a six-lesson, 15-hour sewing course, free, from one of our expert teachers. Even you could sew after that.

Suggestion: Take that $5 to your Singer Sewing Center and leave it there . . . as a layaway deposit on a sparkling new Singer. We'll help you decide the right model and the right terms. Our prices start with the new Spartan at $59.50. Terms run to 30 months—so the most wonderful Christmas ever for her can be the most painless ever for you!
(Confidentially, she'll save more doing her own sewing than you'll be putting up for the machine.) She doesn't sew? Think nothing of it — with most models she gets a six-lesson, 15-hour sewing course, free, from one of our expert teachers. Even you could sew after that.

San Mateo Drops Out Of Crusade

SAN MATEO (AP) — The San Mateo County chapter has withdrawn from the United Bay Area Crusade, explaining "the board feels it has no alternative if it is to fulfill its obligations to its agencies and donors."

The board "almost unanimously" voted on withdrawal shortly after the UBAC announced record pledges for the 1960 budget and allocations for the counties.

The five-county UBAC pledges totaled $10,501,500—$600,000 more than a year ago and a record for the six years since the area group was founded.

San Francisco pledges totaled $3,120,100 and its allocation is $5,179,299; San Mateo County pledged $596,500 and was allocated $532,230.

San Mateo directors said they would set up a one-county organization to do a "more realistic job for our agencies."

Hospital Gets Museum

CHICAGO (AP)—Swedish Covenant Hospital has a new health-science museum, the gift of a physician who spent 10 years compiling the exhibits and models.

The museum is the gift of Dr. J. B. McCormick, pathologist and laboratory director at the hospital. He values the collection at $10,000.

Dr. McCormick made or directed the production of two films, about 50 plastic models and about 500 illustrations.

The exhibits will be used as teaching aids for physicians and nurses.

Adventists To See Missionary Movie

The movie, "They Thirst Not," showing missionary work in India, will be shown at Fairfax Seventh-Day Adventist Church at 75 Park road tomorrow at 9:30 a.m.

The 13th Sabbath offering will be collected for the building of churches and medical clinics in India, and other Asiatic countries.

THE JOY OF DISCOVERY

When 5-year-old Elizabeth Hereford entered the room her fingers flitted like hummingbirds across the Christmas tree ornaments. She lifted one of them to her cheek and suddenly her face lighted in the joy of discovery. This is her way of "seeing" things. She is totally blind. Elizabeth is a daughter of Mrs. Barbara Hereford of Sacramento. (AP Wirephoto)

DOES HE WANT ALL COMPLETE WITH GARBAGE?

San Mateo Drops Out Of Crusade

SAN MATEO (AP) — The San Mateo County chapter has withdrawn from the United Bay Area Crusade, explaining "the board feels it has no alternative if it is to fulfill its obligations to its agencies and donors."

The board "almost unanimously" voted on withdrawal shortly after the UBAC announced record pledges for the 1960 budget and allocations for the counties.

The five-county UBAC pledges totaled $10,501,500—$600,000 more than a year ago and a record for the six years since the area group was founded.

San Francisco pledges totaled $3,120,100 and its allocation is $5,179,299; San Mateo County pledged $596,500 and was allocated $532,230.

San Mateo directors said they would set up a one-county organization to do a "more realistic job for our agencies."

Hospital Gets Museum

CHICAGO (AP)—Swedish Covenant Hospital has a new health-science museum, the gift of a physician who spent 10 years compiling the exhibits and models.

The museum is the gift of Dr. J. B. McCormick, pathologist and laboratory director at the hospital. He values the collection at $10,000.

Dr. McCormick made or directed the production of two films, about 50 plastic models and about 500 illustrations.

The exhibits will be used as teaching aids for physicians and nurses.

THE JOY OF DISCOVERY

DOES HE WANT ALL COMPLETE WITH GARBAGE?

The Teasel Building, latest addition to the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, will be officially opened tomorrow when the Decorations Guild stages its 12th Christmas Greens Sale there from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The new building contains 1,200 square feet and includes work and display rooms, fireplace and concrete aggregate terrace with low rock wall. It is connected with the other buildings by a covered walkway.

The building was planned as new headquarters for the Decorations Guild. The area formerly occupied by the guild will now be used by the Northgate Group for an accelerated year-round program including rentals. The Northgate Antique Shop is adjacent to this.

Proceeds of tomorrow's Christmas Greens Sale will be turned over to the center, according to Mrs. Victor Guilder, president of the Decorations Guild. Wreaths and a variety of other decorative items, handcrafted of both fresh and dried materials, will be available. Mrs. Gordon Zimmer is general chairman.

In another department, the Christmas Cupboard, homemade holiday foods will be featured. The cupboard is a project of Pixie Parents, also a center affiliate, with Mrs. Stuart Spence as chairman.

Hub Chief Warns On Blasting Caps

The caps, used to detonate charges of dynamite, are used in mining, quarrying, construction work, land clearing, and other jobs. Children who find them may not know what they are and think they are harmless, but "in the hands of an inexperienced person they are extremely dangerous," the chief said. The exploding caps can send metal fragments flying in all directions, injuring or blinding a person.
